

Contempt, Indictment Against Ryan Out Says Time, Legislation Factors in Planning

Schrowang Brings Up New Costs His Study Ready, No Charge to City

Time and pending federal legislation will be important factors in the economy of city planning and urban renewal, Augustus R. Schrowang Jr., said Wednesday in commenting on Tuesday's local approval of a planning project.

Schrowang, who had bid for the project, noted that he had also offered a redevelopment study already compiled at no cost to the city. The planning board and council favored Raymond & May Associates, of Pleasantville.

This first phase, he felt, ready to be submitted for federal government study, could have been a time-saving factor, in view of the fact that federal housing funds, under the old bill, are badly depleted, and the trend now is to remove much of the financial burden from the federal government.

Wants States Pay More

President Eisenhower, now displeased with recent legislation, appears to favor a measure which would reduce the federal government's cost share from two-thirds to one-half. States are asked to pay as much as a sixth.

Schrowang foresees a trend that could bring the present cost of 17 per cent as high as 50 per cent to municipalities for their share in clearing and preparing areas involved.

Could Cost More Locally

If, as has been estimated, he said, that such preliminary work as clearance plus street and sewer work in the Sixth and Seventh Wards is based on a total project cost of $2,000,000, the designated local share by present trends could be figured on a basis of as much as half that sum.

The urban redevelopment plan provides for encouraging private capital investment in building after areas are cleared and prepared for development.

The Schrowang proposal was outlined in a letter filed with the Common Council Tuesday night and referred to the planning board.

It noted that upon invitation

New Paltz College Enrollment High For Summer Study

Summer enrollment at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, reached an all-time high this week, according to Dr. Richard F. Klix, director of the summer session, who reported an increase of 141 over last year's enrollment.

Dr. Klix said a total of 1,260 students had enrolled compared to last year's total of 1,119, and 1,146 in 1957.

The 1,260 total includes the 353 students registered for the summer program on the campus at the Long Island Agricultural and Technical Institute, Farmingdale, which is conducted by the Teachers College at New Paltz. The remaining 907 students are attending classes at New Paltz.

Dr. Klix stated that this year's figure represents the largest on-campus summer enrollment in the history of the college at New Paltz.

A additional short programs scheduled later this summer are expected to increase the total summer enrollment to nearly 1,500, according to Dr. Klix. These programs include a two-week workshop for retired teachers, from July 13 to 24; a one-day school administrators institute on school law, scheduled for July 30, and a workshop on the social history of New York State from 1790 to 1850, which will be held from August 10 to 21 as part of the college's year of activities in observance of the Hudson-Champlain celebration.

Dr. Klix attributed the enrollment increase to the constant demand for teachers in New York State, and the teachers' desire to become better qualified. "Our summer session, as well as the regular session and extensive program," Dr. Klix said, "has been expanded a great deal during the past few years to provide the variety of the courses needed and to meet the demands for more and better qualified teachers."

Ulster, Dutchess Fatalities

Two Lose Lives In Highway Mishaps

Two highway accidents, one in Ulster County and the other in Dutchess County took the lives of two men on Wednesday.

Harold James Kimble, 20, of Box 411, Saugerties, who was home on leave from the U. S. Navy, was instantly killed when his car smashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer near Saugerties.

Herbert J. Frey, 58, of 37 Mill Lane, Pleasantville, identified by state police as a real estate operator, was killed when his car crashed into a tree near Clinton Hollow in Dutchess County.

Kingston state police said Kimble's automobile went out of control and hit the rear side of the milk tank truck at the junction of Route 212 and the northbound Thruway interchange near Saugerties.

South Millbrook troopers said Frey was killed when his car went out of control and crashed into a tree off Hollow Road. Town of Clinton at about 5 p. m. Wednesday.

Rider Is Serious

Henry Amenda, 20, of Russell Street, Saugerties, a passenger in the Kimble vehicle, was listed in serious condition today at Kingston Hospital.

Kingston state police said Amenda suffered a broken right leg, head injuries, bruises and contusions.

Coroner Michael Galletta issued a verdict of accidental death due to a fracture of the base of the skull.

Report Car Out of Control

Trooper Louis Johnson reported that the Kimble car, a 1949 sedan owned by Mrs. Annie Olive Kimble, 282 Main Street, Saugerties, was in collision with a 1952 tractor-trailer owned by W. W. Patterson of Auburn, operated by James Allen, 32, of Baldwinville.

Kimble, a graduate of Saugerties High School who has been serving in the U. S. Navy for the past two and a half years, was proceeding south on Route 212 out of control, according to state police, at the time of the accident.

The tractor-trailer was leaving the Thruway interchange to enter Route 212, heading north.

Car Badly Wrecked

Troopers said the passenger car swung into the northbound lane and smashed into the rear side of the trailer near the wheels.

The car was described as mangled like an "accordion." Kimble was spending a 20-day leave with his family, it was reported.

He was a fire control technician on the USS Lester, a destroyer escort.

No Autopsy Planned

Following graduation from Saugerties High School Kimble worked for a while at the

Goldwater Calls Ike's Veto Best Record Asset for '60

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans cheered and Democrats grumbled today at President Eisenhower's evident determination to keep using the veto to hold down government spending.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said that if Eisenhower continues to veto such measures as the housing bill "his record will be our greatest asset in 1960."

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Assistant Democratic Leader, said in a separate interview that "the President has the real vote to sustain his vetoes, while we have only the theoretical vote to override them."

It requires two-thirds of those voting in both houses to enact bills into law over the President's rejection. Despite their overwhelming Senate and House majorities—their own—almost two-thirds of the total membership—Democrats have never been able to hold their lines enough to override.

Because of this Mansfield conceded that the division of opinion among Democrats has made it necessary for his party to trim legislative programs to a point near Eisenhower's specifications in order to get any bills enacted into law.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he doesn't use his veto power lightly, and disclaimed any intention of gaining political advantage through its use.

"What I'm trying to do," he said, "is to get legislation passed that will benefit the United States and keep us solvent at the same time."

High Rate Is Set for Long Bonds Bids Fix About 4 3/4 PC, 38-Year Top

WASHINGTON (AP)—A near-record interest rate on government borrowing pointed up today the Eisenhower administration's contention it must be permitted to offer more for long term bonds. The Treasury announced Wednesday night it will pay nearly 4 3/4 per cent—the highest rate in 38 years—to borrow two billion dollars for a year. The rate was determined by bids.

Compromise Plan

The announcement came a few hours after the House Ways and Means Committee approved a compromise plan permitting President Eisenhower to set aside the 4 1/2 per cent interest limit which the law puts on bonds issued for five years or longer. The authority was limited to two years.

There was no direct relation between the committee's action and the Treasury announcement. There is no legal limit on the interest rates for securities to be repaid in less than five years.

Short-term interest rates normally are lower than those for longer borrowings. But Wednesday's bids put the short-term rate nearly one-half per cent above the present legal maximum for bonds.

Comparison of Rates

The actual rate of 4.728 per cent compared with 4.05 paid in May for the last one-year offering. It is the highest since a 5 per cent rate was paid on a six-month borrowing in 1921, and the largest for a one-year issue since June 15, 1920, when the Treasury paid 6 per cent.

The House committee gave Eisenhower less than he had asked, but it nevertheless opened the way for criticism from many who contend that an increase in government interest rates would touch off a spiral of higher interest costs for individual and business borrowers.

5 1/4 Rate Effective Now on GI Homes

George M. Vadas, acting manager of the Albany Veterans Administration Regional Office, today announced that the interest rate in the new Housing Bill became effective July 2.

Vadas advises that the new higher interest rate of 5 1/4 per cent which can be charged for GI loans on or after July 2 has no effect upon loans closed before that date. Loans closed after the July 2 date may be charged the new higher rate unless the lender has previously made a binding commitment to grant the loan at a lower rate.

This explanation, Vadas said, is furnished because of a series of inquiries from puzzled veterans following announcement of the new rate. Vadas added that once a loan has actually been closed, subsequent legislation has no effect on the interest rate charged for that loan.

Tongue Is Named New Juror Chief

Deputy County Clerk Ward B. Tongue was named Ulster County Commissioner of Jurors for a four-year term commencing July 1, at a meeting of the Ulster County Jury Board held this morning.

The appointment of Deputy County Clerk Tongue, who has been serving as acting Commissioner since the resignation of Edwin H. Ashby, was made for the full four-year term by Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick, chairman of the board, Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth and Supervisor Jesse McHugh of Town of Shawangunk, majority leader of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, who is the representative of that board on the County Jury Board.

As commissioner of jurors Tongue will have charge of the drawing of juries for attendance at the trial terms of both County and Supreme court. He will also continue to serve as deputy county clerk and as clerk of the courts.

3,350 Sign To Restore Bus Rides

A total of 3,350 signatures on a petition have been secured asking the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) to liberalize its bus transportation policy, it was reported Wednesday night at a meeting of canvassers in the Town of Esopus Hall, Port Ewen.

Robert Murphy, chairman of the drive, reported that not all areas have been completely covered by volunteers and that the campaign will be continued.

The next meeting of canvassers will be Wednesday evening, July 15.

Seek 4,000 Names

Murphy said the new goal will be 4,000 signatures.

The initial goal, set tentatively a week ago, was for 1,500 signatures—a figure far surpassed during a week of industrious activity by representatives of parents groups in the Chambers, Port Ewen, Hurley and Lake Katrine attendance areas.

The petitioners are seeking to restore school bus service to its status in the rural areas prior to consolidation.

Wife Disappears

A weeping young man said he and his wife jumped into the water when the ship caught fire. His wife had managed to grab a life belt. En route to shore, he said, his wife gave the life belt to a screaming mother who was trying to keep herself and her baby afloat. Then his wife disappeared.

Fourteen of the survivors were hospitalized with burns. Some, including Capt. Hans Ristofte, were in critical condition.

Survivors said Capt. Ristofte tried vainly to calm the passengers and reach the lifebelts. While flames shot out of the engine room the panicky crowd beat him back, and he returned to the wheel.

Tragedy Mars Excursion

Panic Caused Many Of 53 Boat Deaths

HADERSLEV, Denmark (AP)—Eyewitnesses today blamed panic for increasing the death toll in an explosion and fire aboard an excursion boat. Some of the 53 victims perished in water so shallow that adults could have walked ashore.

Rowboat Capsizes

One rescuing rowboat was capsized by panicky passengers. Some of those aboard the excursion boat—officials believe there were 94 passengers—escaped by leaping overboard into the park lake at this south Denmark resort after an engine room explosion set the vessel ablaze Wednesday. Among those who escaped were mothers with babies in arms.

The skipper of the 45-foot wooden excursion boat Damende, injured and unable to stem the panic, beached his craft. It burned out within an hour.

Esopus to Study Township's Need Of Building Code

Possible adoption of the New York State Building Code for the Town of Esopus is being considered by the Town Board, according to the discussions at the Wednesday night meeting of the board at Esopus Town Hall, Port Ewen.

The board met with Arthur J. Benline, director of the Bureau of State Building Codes and John Wetzell, chief inspector of the bureau on July 1 for a conference on the proposal.

Meets Again Aug. 12

Town Supervisor Roger W. Mabie said the town board will either take action on the code or set a date for a public hearing regarding the proposal at the board's next regular meeting, August 12.

The State Building Code has been adopted by the City of Kingston, Town of New Paltz and Villages of New Paltz, Rosendale and Ellenville, in Ulster County, and 298 cities, towns or villages in the state.

It was announced that the bonding company had been notified of the July 1 expiration in a performance bond for the execution of road and water main installations in the Orchard Knolls housing development in Port Ewen. Work was stopped last fall and never resumed, Supervisor Mabie said. The town holds

Tompkins Censored, Says Haver Appellate Court Decision Upheld

The court of Appeals Wednesday afternoon upheld a reversal of a criminal contempt conviction and dismissal of a conspiracy indictment against Morgan D. Ryan, a former employee of the defunct Ulster Bituminous Distributors Inc.

The State's highest court in a four to three decision upheld the Appellate Division.

The Decision of the Court of Appeals was described by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins as a "temporary" setback in the County probe but he indicated the investigation would continue and that the Ryan matter would be resubmitted to the grand jury.

Censored, Says Haver

N. LeVan Haver, attorney for Ryan, in a statement issued this morning said "the higher courts by their decisions have censored the special prosecutor and his staff for their unorthodox and improper tactics in attempting to violate Mr. Ryan's constitutional right. The decisions clearly indicate that our courts are still ever mindful of the rights of individuals under our constitution. I do not feel any further compulsion is necessary or proper. I have always made it a practice to try lawsuits in the courtroom and not in the public press and I shall continue to do so."

Ryan was convicted of charges of refusing to answer certain questions of the Ulster County special grand jury probing alleged highway kickbacks. The Appellate Division reversed the decision and an appeal was taken by the special prosecutor to the Court of Appeals.

In a statement issued today Special Assistant Attorney General Tompkins, special prosecutor, said that he had studied the decision of the court and "unquestionably four-to-three decision of the Court of Appeals was a setback, however as it effects our investigation it is only temporary."

Tompkins to Proceed

"Although the indictment against Ryan was dismissed the opinion of the Court of Appeals does not say as the Appellate Division did, that Ryan was granted immunity and there is nothing in the opinion to indicate that a reindictment is barred. Therefore, we propose to proceed

Crape Put on Door Of Tompkins Office

A prankster late last night hung a "cemetery" wreath on the door at 52 Main Street where the offices of Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins are located.

The wreath, not a new one, was evidently placed there following the decision of the Court of Appeals which late Wednesday affirmed the opinion of the Appellate Division which had dismissed a conspiracy indictment returned against Morgan D. Ryan by the special kickback grand jury.

The wreath was a flowered affair with long purple ribbons. It was removed when the office opened this morning.

Speed Up IBM Computer Replacements For Those Damaged by Fire at Pentagon

A new International Business Machines Corporation 705 electronic computing system to replace the one destroyed in last week's Pentagon fire in Washington, D. C., will be shipped from the Poughkeepsie plant and will be in operation by Monday, July 13.

The remaining equipment, including a large-scale IBM 705 computer, will be delivered to the Air Force by July 17, it was made known today.

The announcement was made by Colonel Marshall Gray, director of statistical services for the Air Force. Colonel Gray stated: "It usually requires 12 months or more to deliver the big computers. However, the full cooperation of other government agencies and private industry has cut this time to 15 days."

Meanwhile, Air Force statistical operations are proceeding on schedule through the use of borrowed IBM facilities.

Colonel Gray said to the best of his knowledge no one has been seriously inconvenienced by the weekend interruption in service.

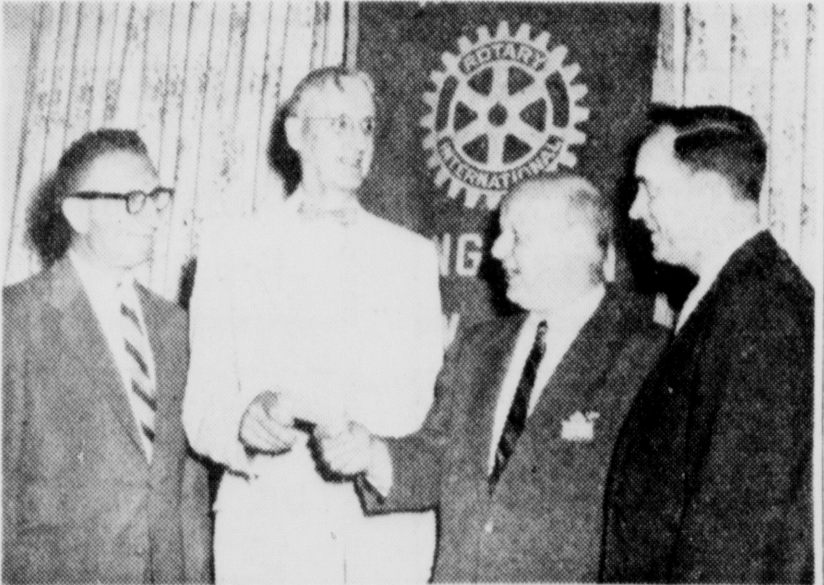

By Friday, Colonel Gray

stated, IBM will complete shipment from its plant in Poughkeepsie of an IBM 705 for installation at CEIR where it will be earmarked for use by the colonel's unit. Engineers are readying the space with necessary cables, air conditioning, testing equipment and spare parts. By Friday, July 17 IBM will complete shipment from the Poughkeepsie plant of an IBM 709 to be installed in the District of Columbia transit building.

Within 30 days, or just as quickly as the general services administration can complete repairs in the burned-out Pentagon space, IBM will move a 704 into that site and shift its 705 from CEIR. The 709 will remain for the time being at its temporary location in the District of Columbia transit building.

The fire in the Pentagon is reported to have started in the ceiling of the first floor and then spread to the air computing center where it damaged IBM equipment valued at five and nine tenths million dollars.

Study Under Way On Union Voting

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—The state industrial commissioner says a study of union election practices is under way.

The study is required by the state's new anti-rackets labor law. Commissioner Martin P. Catherwood said Wednesday night he had appointed George E. Moehring of Jamaica, L. I., a lawyer with the State Labor Relations Board, to direct the study.

Besides setting up a "code of ethics" for labor-management dealings, the law requires the commissioner to make a study of union election practices and to report his findings to the 1960 Legislature.

Catherwood discussed the law at the annual convention of the Allied Printing Trades Council of New York State.

He said he was certain the printers would agree the study of union elections was appropriate.

"The strength and future of the labor movement in this country," Catherwood said, "depends upon the rank and file being represented by officers who are the real choice of the membership and who achieve their honored positions by democratic methods."

Just Curing Hams

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP)—A general alarm sent fire trucks, hook-and-ladder and all, racing to a meat-packing plant in downtown Elmira Wednesday night.

The only fire there, however, was in the smoke house where workers were curing hams.

The hickory smoke was seeping from vents. Somebody smelled it and turned in the alarm.

$35,000 LossWomen Refuse To Quit Phone, Fire Ruins Barn

PALMYRA, N. Y. (AP)—"My barn is on fire," said David Ellis to two women talking on his party line.

"To hell with your barn," answered one of the women, according to a report by Ellis to police.

The barn was destroyed Wednesday at a loss of $35,000.

Ellis, 28, said two telephone repairmen who were working near his farm in East Palmyra were also unable to get the women to give up the line.

He said it took him half an hour to drive to town for firemen.

Fire Chief Franklin Gossen, who estimated the damage, said his men might have been able to save a tool shed with a hay baler and other machinery if they had been called promptly. Ellis also lost two tractors, two heifers and a quantity of hay in the fire.

The cause was not immediately determined.

Wayne County sheriff's deputies were investigating to determine who the two women were. Ellis said he did not know. State law requires that a party line be made available in case of emergency.

Angler Hooks Body

PENN. YAN, N. Y. (AP)—The body of an unidentified man was snagged by a fisherman trolling in Keuka Lake Wednesday.

Robert Van Epps of nearby Rushville hooked the body in 150 feet of water off Bluff Point.

Yates County sheriff's deputies said they could not estimate the man's age because the body was in too poor condition.

$10,000 Reward Offered for Data On Missing Man

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A $10,000 reward awaits anyone who can find Edward B. Germain, wealthy financier who has been missing nearly a month.

His wife offered the reward Wednesday night and set the deadline for noon on July 31, hoping that anyone with pertinent information will report it quickly.

"We have abandoned hope that he is still alive," said his son, Edward Jr. "However, this is the one thing left that we can do to find him."

The son said he believed Germain suffered a slight stroke on June 11 and then met with foul play. Germain's automobile reportedly sideswiped five cars near the Peace Bridge over the Niagara River.

Police said he apparently was driving to his summer home in Canada after attending a bankers' dinner at the Buffalo Club.

Germain, 69, is a director of the Marine Trust Co. and former president of the Dunlop Tire & Rubber Corp.

He was last seen in his 1959 blue Chevrolet sedan carrying New York plates EK 24-78. The car has not been found.

He was described as 5-foot-10, 160 pounds, with brown eyes and black hair turning gray.

21 Rabies Cases Confirmed in State

WARSAW, N. Y. (AP)—Health officials say 21 cases of rabies among animals have been confirmed in Western New York.

They urged Wednesday that rabies clinics be set up to immunize dogs.

Wyoming, Allegany and Livingston counties have imposed quarantines on dogs. In Wyoming

County, six persons are receiving anti-rabies shots after having been bitten by rabid animals or animals suspected of being rabid.

Nine cases of rabies in animals have been found in Wyoming County, six in Livingston, four in Allegany and one each in Genesee and Erie.

THE FACTS OF LIFE

There are words common to our language, and our society, which have no ring of excitement to them but yet are among the most vital we use. Such a word is "evidence."

In the strictest sense, it is a word that belongs to the law and the courts. Our entire system of justice is rooted in it. Disputes over men's rights, criminal charges, conflicts of every conceivable kind, all are determined on the basis of the carefully weighed evidence.

But actually, our dependence upon evidence is far wider than that. Fact-finding commissions in many fields are seeking it. Congressional investigations dig it out to lay the ground for new laws, and to alert the public to many problems.

Science quests after evidence in all the corners of life. Research organizations delve for it in the search for new products, for solutions to a host of problems through the whole range of society.

We citizens look at the evidence as we try to weigh the pros and cons of the issues and the merits of the public figures we must vote upon.

Plainly, the whole course and conduct of our society is keyed to respect for "evidence." Should that respect ever be lost, we will begin to sink into a chaos in which fact and fiction, truth and falsehood, right and wrong become indistinguishable one from the other.

It has to be acknowledged that in recent decades there has been some chipping away of this respect. The enemies of democracy, the totalitarian dictators, have cynically warped to their own evil purpose the techniques of evidence. For a society that reveres the document, the Communists can always pull one out of their sleeves.

Even within our own setting, however, regard for evidence has suffered. More and more, men argue from special, limited, partial sets of facts—evidence, but not all of it. Each side in a dispute pretends that it has all there is.

Worse still, a tendency exists in some quarters—and this sadly often includes men of intellectual quality who say they are dedicated to truth—to ignore evidence which is put before them.

This is a risky road to travel. For a free society will not forever stay free if it casts away respect for evidence. Our institutions must have those roots. If they wither, so will our freedoms.

A poll shows that 20 million potential voters are too scared of election procedure to vote. They also may be scared by the candidates.

MILITARY BALLOT

Some 310,000 men and women of the State of New York who are serving in the armed forces of our country are entitled to vote in the general election November 3 next by military ballot. The Division for Servicemen's Voting, 164 State Street, Albany, 1, N. Y., has post card applications available to any person or organization requesting them.

To obtain a military ballot, a serviceman may file an application or he may write a letter giving his full name and rank, his home residence address and his military address. Applications or letters must be subscribed by the serviceman but need not be sworn to nor attested.

The spouse, parent or child of a serviceman who resides in the same election district as the serviceman and who accompanies him may also vote a military ballot. The application for the military ballot for such person is the same as that used by the serviceman.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE PROBLEM OF WAR

What has come out of the Mikoyan visit, the Geneva Conference, the Kozlov visit thus far is that both Soviet Russia and the United States are trying hard not to make war, but neither side wishes the other to believe that it could not make and win a war if it had to.

When the Geneva Conference was on, Khrushchev, as usual, was traveling about making speeches from the sidelines. He has to have front billing all the time, which is his right in the Russian way of life. He had to yell down Gromyko who sat stonily waiting for a cue which apparently never came. The discouraging fact is that the Geneva Conference might have paved the way to a Summit conference which Khrushchev wants.

Kozlov, the current Russian envoy, is next to Khrushchev and Mikoyan, the leading figure in present day Russia. He is heavy set and heavily-handed. He has none of the Armenian delicacy of Mikoyan and therefore made the stupid slip about Russia paying for American aid in the early 1920's when Herbert Hoover brought food to the starving Russians. A really smart man would have been better briefed.

Kozlov is reputed to have been Stalin's principal anti-Semite, the inventor of the Jewish Doctors' Plot Case which was created to pave the way for blaming Stalin's death on Jewish conspirators—a plot that was completely proved to be false when Khrushchev came to power. The rise to high estate in Russia requires a peculiar leavening. Kozlov's was anti-Semitism when that fitted Stalin's mood.

The Russians like to threaten. They never stop threatening us over Berlin and yet they know that nothing could do them as much damage as a war. Granted that a war would hurt us just as much and perhaps even more, no matter what happens to us, all the newly-built establishments of Soviet industrialism would undoubtedly be wiped out during the first few days of a nuclear war. The Russians have calculated that risk and do not seek war.

What then would become of Soviet Russia? The cynic will ask, what will become of the United States, but that is not here the issue. The issue is what would become of Soviet Russia, of its new installations, its factories, mills, mines and mountains of iron? They would, of course, be blown to rubble immediately. It is no longer a question as to who strikes the first blow, because all who are able to strike are in about equal position to strike and the blows would be simultaneous.

The Russians understand this perfectly. Therefore while Khrushchev threatens that if he is not invited to meet President Eisenhower face to face, he will ultimately bury us, his associates come here and go to other countries speaking for peace while they reject every formula that could establish peace. But they never let go of the rope in this tug of war. They continue keeping in close touch and they work the people-to-people business for all it is worth, hoping perhaps that one day, Americans will say that what is Berlin or Formosa, or Iran or even Cuba worth to us if we can have peace. Or they may assume that the Bolshoi Ballet or the Moscow State Orchestra will lull us into accepting dishonorable terms.

The measure of Russian or, for that matter, treaty providing for neutral inspection, perhaps American sincerity, would be a disarmament under the United Nations. Without inspection, a disarmament treaty is worthless. Such a treaty was written in Washington in 1922 with Japan, but when Pearl Harbor arrived, it was ended beyond doubt that the treaty had been violated by Japan. A disarmament treaty without inspection is an open door to deceit among nations. To leave disarmament to an honor system in these days of nuclear warfare, is to risk another Pearl Harbor and a total defeat. It does not matter whether the Administration in Washington is Republican or Democratic, it must insist on inspection.

Perhaps it came as a shock to most people that little Israel has a sufficiently developed munitions industry to be making sales to West Germany. As a matter of fact, now that even small nations are setting up nuclear systems, there can be no peace unless there is world-wide inspection of nuclear activity and of the manufacture of munitions of all kinds.

Celiac Disease Possibly Stems From Child's Emotions

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Several correspondents, including G. M., have asked for information concerning the disorder of childhood known as celiac disease.

Although many readers may never have heard of it, it is not exceedingly rare and, when it does occur, is most troublesome.

Three or four years ago two pediatricians reported 213 cases of this disease observed over a single three-year period.

The location of the trouble in celiac disease appears to be in the intestines. It usually occurs in children between the ages of six months and three years but occasionally attacks older or younger children.

Its principal characteristic is the long continued but irregular appearance of a typical kind of diarrhea. There is, however, no single laboratory test to nail down the diagnosis.

The cause of celiac disease is not entirely clear. Youngsters who have it are irritable. The symptoms are made worse by emotional disturbances, such as upsetting the daily routine by travel or moving to another home.

The factor of stress is so important that there is a question as to whether it may not be a cause rather than a result of the disease.

There seems to be a tendency in some victims of celiac disease to outgrow or overcome the condition with age. Even if this could be counted on, which is doubtful, it still is advisable to relieve the youngster (not to mention the parents) of the symptoms.

Certainly one factor is to keep the emotional stresses and strains for the youngster as low as possible. Certain drugs also have a place in treatment.

Probably the most important line of treatment is dietary. The two pediatricians whose report I mentioned believe that the main difficulty is with the digestion of starchy foods.

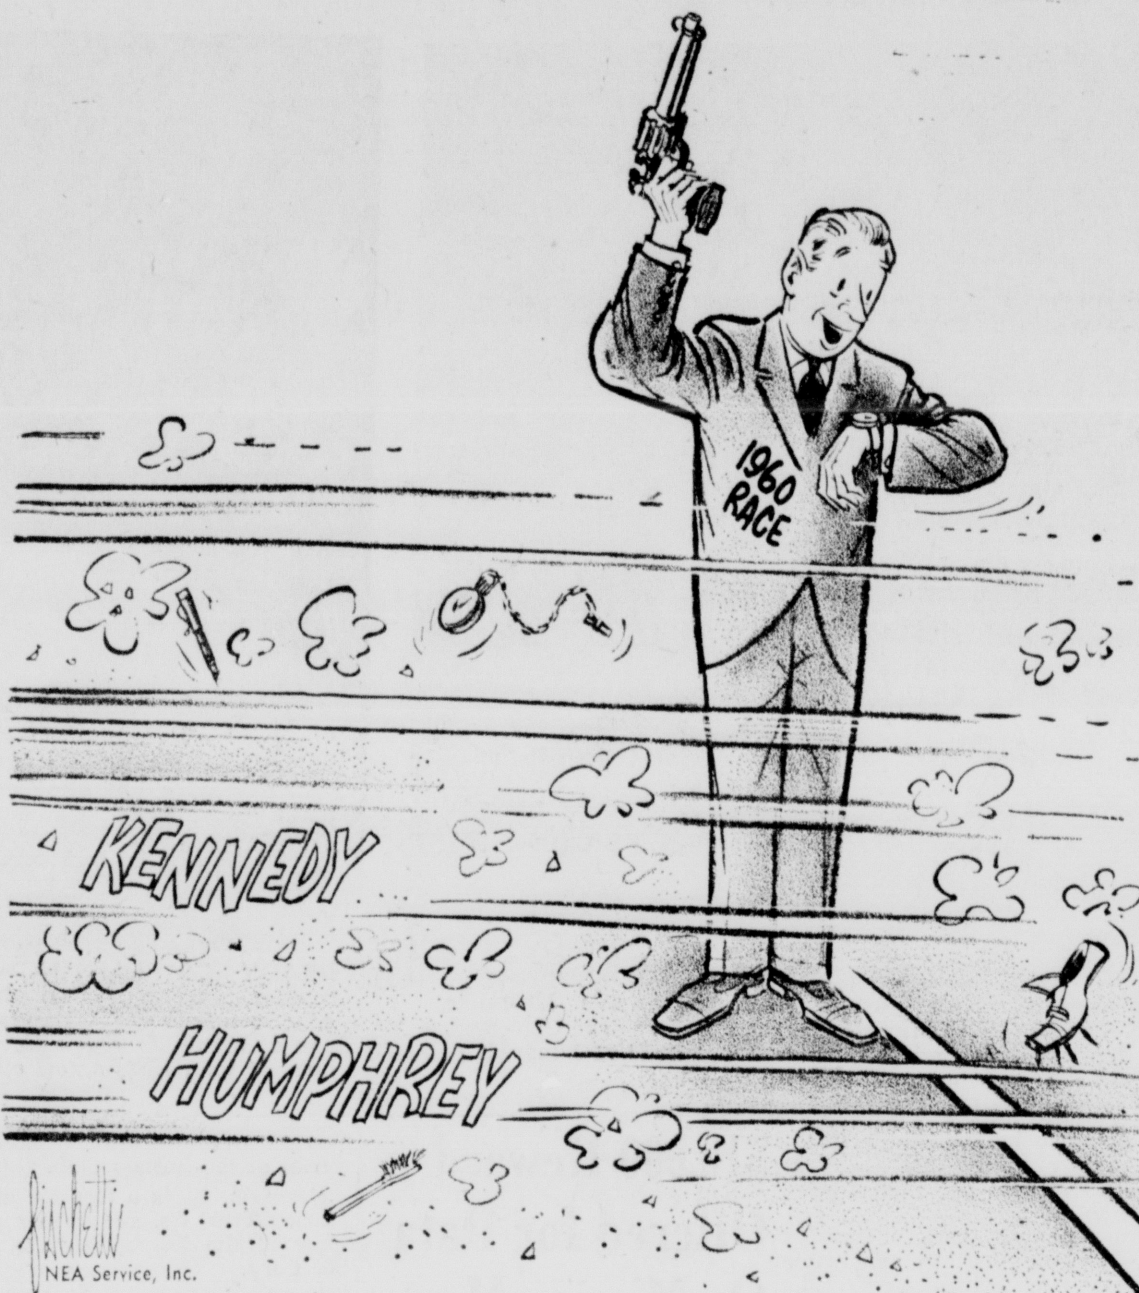

They believe, therefore, that most starches other than those found in fruits, vegetables and in protein or caseinate milk should be eliminated. The banana, they think, is particularly desirable.

The child with celiac disease can apparently digest protein and moderate amounts of fat without great difficulty. They recommend eliminating from the diet the cereal grains in any form, including bread, cake, toast, breakfast cereals or cookies. They also prohibit potatoes and sugar as sweetening or in candy, pastries and the like. They feel that dietary supplements containing certain vitamins are valuable in treatment.

Congress could remedy this situation. It would set up an international health institute which would serve as a clearing house for the work of medical researchers in all lands.

For the good of us all, this bill deserves speedy consideration.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The new veterans nonservice-connection pension bill passed by the House of Representatives makes one change in existing law which all veterans' organizations have advocated. It puts widows and dependents of World War II and Korean War vets on the same basis as survivors of World War I vets.

The new bill also provides a "needs" test. Veterans survivors would not be eligible for pensions if their income is over $1,800 a year.

Under present law, veterans' widows with no children get $50.40 a month pension if annual income is less than $1,400. Widows with one child get $63 a month plus $7.50 a month for each additional child, if annual income is less than $2,700.

UNDER THE NEW LAW, veterans' pensions paid to widows and children would be put on a sliding scale. It would be based on the income and dependency status of the recipient. The greater the need, the bigger the pension.

Widows with no children and annual incomes of less than $600 would get $60 a month pension. With income between $600 and $1,200 the pension would be $45 a month. With income between $1,200 and $1,800 a year, the pension would be $25 a month. Over $1,800 a year income, no pension.

A widow with one child would get a pension of $75 a month if income is under $1,000 a year. The pension would be $60 a month if income is between $1,000 and $2,000. The pension if it goes into effect July 1, 1960. There are 435,000 widows and children of deceased veterans of all wars on the pension rolls today.

The number of widows and children of World War I veterans on the pension rolls is expected to reach a peak of 423,000 cases by 1970. For World War II and Korean War widows and dependent children, a peak of about 365,000 is expected in 2000 A.D.

THE ADDED COSTS OF equalizing World War II and Korean War widows and dependents, plus increasing the benefits for both, is expected to be 154 million dollars for 205,700 added cases for the first year's operations under the House-passed bill.

The total cost of pensions for widows and children of World War I, World War II and Korean War veterans through the year 2000, under present legislation, will be over 12 billion dollars. Equalizing the basis of entitlement for widows and children of World War II and Korean War veterans will increase this cost over the same period by 22 billion.

This will increase gradually to a peak of 796 million dollars for 1,466,000 added cases in 1995. Then it will decline to 733 million in the year 2000 and more later.

Q—Is the sea horse a good swimmer?

A—No. The hard, jointed shell which covers the body makes it a feeble and inefficient swimmer. Because it swims so poorly, the sea horse spends much of its time in a state of rest, its tail wraps around a plant and its body standing nearly erect in the water.

Today in National Affairs

Democratic Squabble Held To Show Need of Reform

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There's something more fundamental than a mere difference of opinion on party policies in the controversy that has arisen between Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and the two Democratic leaders in Congress — House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas. The real question it raises is whether any one ought to hold the post of national chairman who is not a member of the leadership group of the party itself in Congress.

A national chairman nowadays has no responsibility for party policy. He is not a part of the legislative process. Nor is he part of any branch of the government. There was a time when Postmasters General did serve as national chairmen, and at least this identified them with the President's Cabinet sessions where national policies were discussed. Today, while the Democrats control only Congress, the leaders in the Senate and House do shape party policy nationally.

Plainly it is in Congress that national issues have their origin and that one party or the other must take responsibility for the kind of laws that are passed and for the way the public's money is spent.

A national chairman has no direct connection today with all this and usually uses his time mostly to go around the country working with the party organizations in the various states. But here, too, he is not alone. There are state chairmen who are supposed to build the state organizations.

Who Should Lead? The national chairman is, of course, a mouthpiece of the party, but should he be its official leader, too, and what should be his relationship to the elected leaders of the party in Congress?

The Republicans have just chosen as their national chairman, Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky. While he isn't the Senate's Republican leader, he is much more identified with Republican policy operations in Congress than his counterpart, Mr. Butler, is with Democratic policy-making in the Senate or the House.

In Britain, the two spokesmen for the major parties are part of the governmental apparatus, one being in the Cabinet and the other the leader of the opposition party in Parliament.

The true leaders of the major parties today in this country are in the government at Washington. Mr. Eisenhower is the leader of the Republican party, while Messrs. Rayburn and Johnson are really co-chairmen of the Democratic party.

Reform Needed

There is every reason why the two national parties should each have as a permanent secretary a man of enough stature in politics to command the attention of state groups. He might be a former member of Congress or a former governor. His work would be to operate the organization through its national headquarters. But policy leadership belongs to the elected spokesmen of the two parties in Congress.

Reform in the national chairmanship situation is long overdue. Party squabbles are unhealthy not matter what their origin. The creation recently of an "advisory committee" of prominent Democrats was not received with any enthusiasm by the Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill. They frankly said that they didn't feel bound by any advice such a committee might give. The purpose, of course, of the "advisory committee" was to get publicity for political or ideological viewpoints that, it was felt, would not be reflected by Messrs. Rayburn and Johnson. Yet the device has served only to accentuate differences and to publicize factional strife within the party.

Parliamentary System

Everybody knows, of course, that there are differences of viewpoint inside the Democratic party between conservatives and the so-called "liberals" who are really radicals at heart, but the disputes that arise are usually with reference to specific items of legislative policy, and certainly no setup should bar the free expression of ideas on any subject by any party member.

In the long run, the party leaders in Congress, however, can smooth out differences or invoke enough ambiguous phrases to take care of party platform planks on controversial questions at a national convention.

If America had a parliamentary system of government, its experienced leaders would today be the candidates for President, and the Democrats would be certain to choose either Speaker Rayburn or Sen. Lyndon Johnson because they have won top rank in the national legislature. But in America today, where divided government still frustrates national legislation, the only hope of securing some semblance of direct responsibility is at least, for the major parties to choose as their respective national chairmen either the House or the Senate leader. Then a general secretary could be appointed to take over the actual operation of the party organizations.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — After six months in office, Gov. Rockefeller has lost some of the boyish bounce he brought to the job.

The ready grin is less in evidence. The ever-so-warm handshake is a bit more reserved. The "gee-whiz" kind of expressions he formerly used are seldom heard.

Make no mistake—there's still plenty of zip in the Rockefeller personality.

APALACHIN, N. Y. (AP)—The local Chamber of Commerce, unlike the local P-T-A, wants the zoning law changed to allow the site of the Apalachin gangland convention to become a tourist attraction.

It "could be very beneficial to the community of Apalachin," the chamber said Wednesday. It said it could increase employment, spur commercial development, increase tax revenues and improve property values in this tiny community.

The Parent-Teachers Assn. is on record as opposing the proposed zoning-law change. The group says such a tourist attraction would be "a shrine to crime."

The site in question is the plush, hilltop mansion of the late Joseph Barbara Sr. In November 1957, some 60 hoodlums and their associates gathered at the house of what has been described as a meeting of overlords of narcotics and other rackets.

The meeting was broken up by State Police. Barbara died last month shortly after selling the property to local interests for $135,000. The purchasers appealed to the town to rezone the area to allow commercial operation.

The Chamber of Commerce stipulated that it approved the commercial plan provided sale of liquor was prohibited. It added that 8 out of 10 persons questioned in a survey favored the mansion being turned into a tourist attraction.

The chamber said that Apalachin was "the only place that shows that good law enforcement can combat organized crime."

Webelos Awards, Graduations Mark Pack 19 Meeting

Three Webelos awards and two graduations marked the monthly pack meeting of Cub Pack 19, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1386 of Kingston, held at Forsyth Park.

Cub Scouts Carl Schleede, Richard Remus and George Barnes each received the highest award in cub scouting—the Webelos, while Cub Scout Richard Remus graduated to Boy Scout Troop 9, and Cub Scout George Barnes became a member of Boy Scout Troop 19.

Scoutmasters William Daum and Emore Yallum received the graduating Cub Scouts. Five fathers and sons registered for the Lion-Dad weekend at Camp Trimount from Pack 19.

Den 1 conducted the opening flag ceremony for the pack meeting, and also served refreshments. A display of various hobbies of the members of Pack 19 were shown, and a historical map contest brought a high score of 47 out of a possible 48 places named on the maps.

Coming events for the VFW Pack listed the annual Cub Day at Camp TriMount Aug. 1, a "Pine Wood Derby" for the August pack meeting, and educational trips for the summer den meetings.

Awards for the month included: Den 1, Betty Eighmey; den mother; silver arrows to Robert Wells and Richard Cole; gold arrow and bear badge to Ralph Bonomo; wolf badge to Fred Seeger; Webelos badge to Carl Schleede.

Den 3, Barbara Tomczyk; den mother; Webelos badges and graduation certificates to Richard Remus and George Barnes; silver arrows to John Barnes, Jon Elmendorf and William Barnes; bear badge to Michael Cahill.

Den 4, Nancy Wells; den mother; silver arrows to Stanley Albright and Wayne Elliott.

Den 5, Juanita Showers; den mother; lion badge, silver arrow, and two year star to Thomas Rice; one year stars to Charles Markle and Richard Van Keuren.

Aluminum Firm Opens 88-Million Plant at Massena

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP)—Reynolds Metals Co. opened an 88-million-dollar plant today to begin smelting aluminum.

The plant is to supply molten aluminum to a nearby General Motors Corp. foundry for fabrication into automobile parts.

When the plant's three smelting furnaces are operating, it will produce 100,000 tons of aluminum annually and employ approximately 600 workers.

The Reynolds operations is the second aluminum reduction plant in this Northern New York area.

The Aluminum Co. of America has operated a plant here since 1903, the oldest such smelting plant in the country. It employs 3,000.

Ground was broken for the Reynolds plant June 14, 1957, on a 1,700-acre tract seven miles east of here. It is now 95 per cent complete.

Electric power, vital in producing aluminum, comes from the new St. Lawrence power project. Reynolds has been allocated 200,000 kilowatts of firm power and 39,000 kilowatts of interruptible power.

Eventually, Reynolds will not only supply molten aluminum to GM but will cast its own pigs and ingots for distribution to the company's fabricating plants and for sale throughout the Northeast.

For That Lazy Weekend:
Cook Breakfast Over Coals

SUMMER is the time of lazy weekends and leisurely breakfasts. Indoors or outdoors, ham 'n' eggs over the coals is special.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

How about a long, beautiful, lazy breakfast over the coming weekend? Cook it over the coals and make it very special. Choose a hearty menu, cook the food in foil pans you shape yourself and serve on small trays or TV plates.

Menu: Assorted fruit juice, barbecued ham 'n' eggs in silver pans orange marmalade, baked bananas, hot buns, coffee cake, doughnuts, coffee, milk, cocoa.

Barbecued Ham 'n' Eggs in Silver Pans

Form pans about 6 inches by 3 inches from double thick pieces of aluminum foil turning up the edges of the foil 1/2 inch all around and mitering corners to hold them secure. Make as many as necessary, so each person has an individual pan. Place pans on the grill over a moderately hot fire and drop in each, 1 teaspoon of butter or margarine. Have fully cooked, ready-to-serve style ham cut in individual portions. Dip in barbecue sauce; then place each portion in a pan. Brown quickly, turning once. Drop one or two eggs in each pan at this time, sprinkling the eggs with salt and freshly ground pepper.

Seasoning guide: It's safe to use one-quarter teaspoon of salt to one cup of boiling water when you are cooking vegetables. Cover the vegetables but lift the top of the saucepan of skillet several times during the cooking of green vegetables because this helps them retain their attractive color.

At Quitting Job

KENNEY, III. (AP) — The barrel-chested man with no legs sits on a platform pounding cherry-steel into shapes and instilling hope and encouragement into the hearts of his friends.

Andrew Dever, 73, has been practicing the dying art of blacksmithing around Dewitt County since 1904. One of his legs was amputated in 1953, possibly as a result of his diabetes. In 1956 he suffered a stroke. Last year his other leg was taken off.

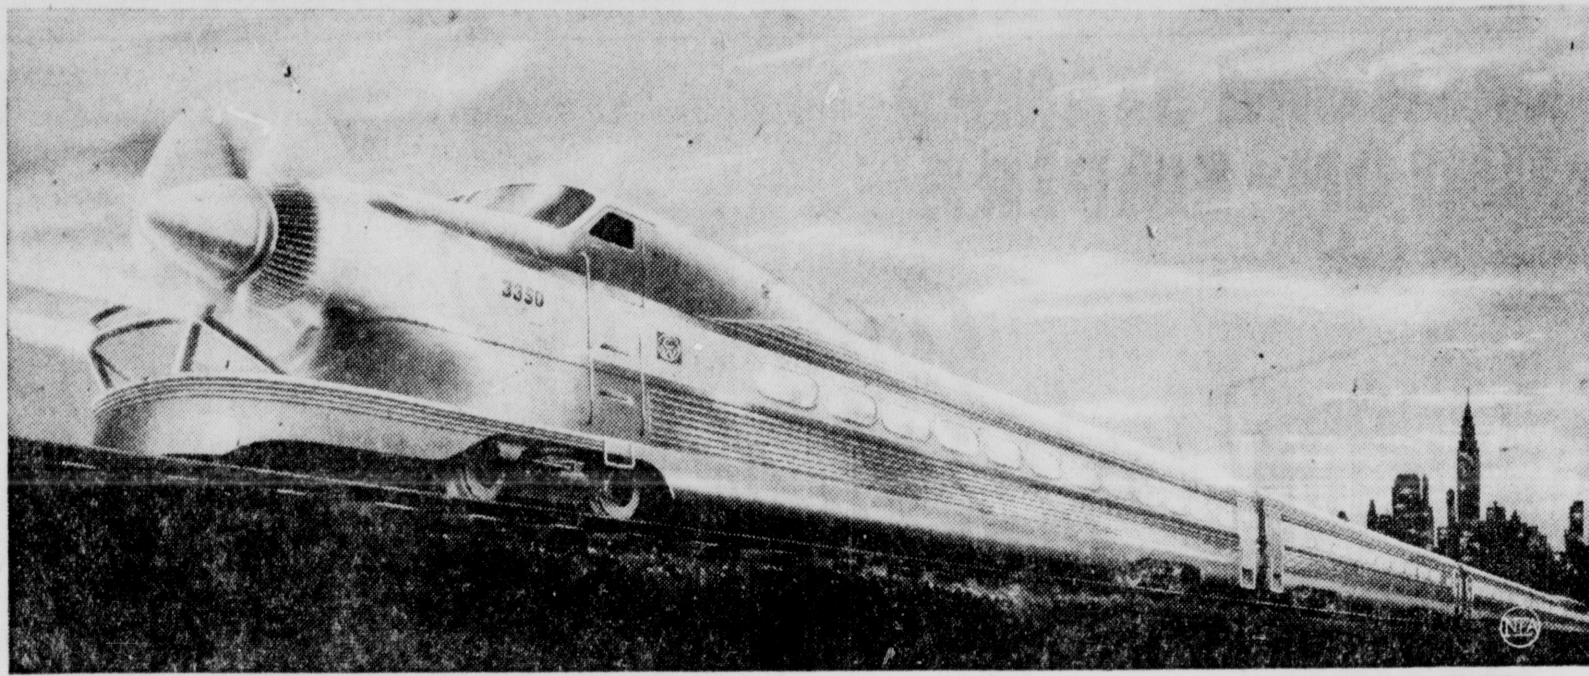

"Stop working?" Dever scoffed at a newsman. "I enjoy my work. Some mornings I maybe don't feel so good and it'd be easy to just lie there in bed."

"Then I dress myself, swing over into the wheel chair and out to the shop I go. I work up a sweat. I sing a little and pretty soon it's a beautiful day."

Dever lives with his wife, Goldie. Their daughter, Ethel, helps Dever out in the shop, bringing him tools and food.

The newsman asked Dever what kept him going despite his handicap.

"A little grit," he replied. "A few jokes a day and the Bible."

PROPELLER-DRIVEN TRAIN DESIGNED—A train driven by standard airplane propeller and engine is shown in this artist's sketch. A working model of a three-car, 276-passenger train will be shown at a series of international fairs, starting at Salonika, Greece, in September. Engineered by Curtiss-Wright, the train is aerodynamically propelled by engine at front and rear and so can run equally well in either direction. The reverse-pitch propellers provide all-weather braking. Several railroads are said to be studying the possibility of placing such trains in use within the next two years.

One License Suspended
For Hours Violation

The New York State Liquor Authority today announced disciplinary action against 24 licensees for violations of the alcoholic beverage control law, and one Kingston licensee is included. The SLA reported a restaurant liquor license issued to Ronald Daniel McDermott, 30 Foxhall Avenue, Kingston, will be suspended for seven days beginning July 13 and ending July 20. The violation was sale of alcoholic beverages during prohibited hours, according to the authority. The licensee did not contest.

Protest Soaring Prices

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP) — Some 300,000 Saar workers staged a one-hour strike today to protest soaring prices that have followed the return of the Saarland from French to German economic control. Labor union leaders charged that merchants are asking 10 to 20 per cent more for their goods than elsewhere in West Germany.

Issues in A&P
Warehouse Tieup
Better Clarified

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal mediators report that the issues in the A&P food store chain strike are "definitely more clarified" than they had been.

The statement came at the end of a bargaining session yesterday.

Out Three Weeks

An intra-union dispute has hampered negotiations seeking to settle the three-week-old strike.

Another major stumbling block to agreement on a new contract is the company's insistence that members of the Teamsters Union work overtime when called upon to do so.

The strike of 1,400 warehouse workers—members of the Teamsters Union—has forced the closing of more than 400 A&P stores in New York City, on Long Island, and in Westchester, Rockland and Orange counties, and in lower Connecticut.

The Teamsters Union officials agreed yesterday on a formula for settling the intra-union dispute.

The formula was rejected by A&P executives. They contended that if the proposal were adopted, the company would be paying for internal peace in the union.

Agree on Wages

The company said that the plan would require the company to hire 40 to 50 additional warehouse workers, at an annual cost of more than $300,000. This, the company said, would be a "pure featherbedding operation."

Both company and union appeared in agreement on wages in a two-year contract. The terms provide increases of $6 a week in the first year and $3 in the second year for male workers and a $2 increase in each year for women workers. The base weekly pay in the first year would be $100.40 for men day workers and $106.40 for men working at night.

Fifty choice seats have been reserved for this day, which is "Old-Timers Day" at the stadium. Reservations and payment for seat and bus-fare should be in the hands of George Schneider, Wilbur Fredenburgh, Vernon Runk, George Slane, or the Rev. Mr. Porter, as soon as possible, and by July 15 at the latest. The excursion is open to community folks as well as Men's Club members. Realizing the need, perhaps especially during the summer months, of daily moments of quiet prayer, the Methodist Church extends an invitation to residents of New Paltz as well as students and vacationers, to come to the church at any time for such periods of quiet devotion. The open church doors symbolize the church's desire to be of service and available in any time of need.

Will Fete Young And Old Aug. 10 At Orange Fair

Youth and age will pay off on the Monday of the Orange County Fair at Middletown next month.

Children's Day and Old Timers' Day will be combined on August 10, when persons in those categories will need no admission tickets.

Benjamin B. Strong, president, said the youngsters need only be accompanied by an adult, and the Old Timers will be admitted by letter.

These letters will be sent to anyone 75 years of age or older, residing anywhere, if a request is made to the Orange County Fair, Farm and Home Center Building, Wisner Avenue, Middletown, before the nine-day fair opens on August 8.

Strong said the Old Timers would be met by Mrs. Robert R. Austell of Middletown, who will have charge of their program. Each Old Timer will be given a ribbon to wear and will have the choice of a noon or evening meal and may see the George Hamid Revue in the stadium.

Already the Old Timers' committee has received an application from a 94-year-old in the Pine Island area, Mrs. Austell reported.

The younger guests will be eligible for a boy's and a girl's bicycle to be given by the Pepsi-Cola Company.

Strong said the combined dates were moved up to Monday because of the Gene Autry show which will occupy afternoon and evening of Friday, Aug. 14.

Harriman Favors Summit in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — Former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman, returning today from a six-week visit to the Soviet Union, urged that Premier Nikita Khrushchev meet with Western leaders in New York.

Harriman, a former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, told newsmen at Idlewild Airport that Khrushchev showed a "grave ignorance of the United States." He said the Communist boss believes American workers have no influence.

A summit meeting here would enable Khrushchev to see for himself, Harriman said.

Harriman said he would report to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter Friday.

He said he had no way of knowing if the Soviet leader was bluffing. But he added that anything said by Khrushchev "should be weighed and too much emphasis should not be placed on flamboyant statements."

Harriman described Khrushchev as a man who is "determined, self-confident and boastful." He can "joke and be serious interchangeably," he said.

"Khrushchev is calling the signals," he commented.

Long's Condition Not Quite Clear

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long, beset by grievous mental and physical ills, admittedly is failing in health. How badly and how rapidly was not quite clear.

Washington political sources heard Wednesday night that the 63-year-old governor was failing fast.

When several doctors hovered over Long and several relatives arrived, speculation arose that his condition was critical. Then Rep. Spencer Myrick emerged from the Mansion and explained a dentist was fitting a new set of false teeth for the governor, and the doctors were laughing and joking with Long.

The governor's condition, however, was viewed gravely.

Long was stricken with a mild heart failure July 1. Five days previous to that the governor had won freedom from a mental institution, after once having been diagnosed as insane.

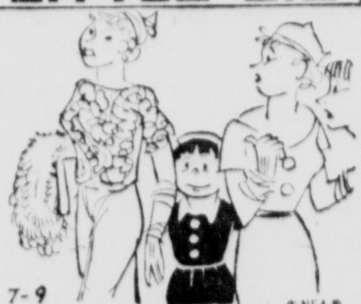

He returned to the capital Monday.

Indictments Hold

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has refused to dismiss the two indictments against William Z. Foster, 78, ailing former head of the Communist Party in the United States.

World's smallest church is at Covington, Ky. It is the Monte Casino Roman Catholic Church, which seats only three persons.

to present the matter to the grand jury for consideration without the testimony of Ryan. With the evidence in our possession I would be doing less than my duty if I did otherwise.

There was no majority opinion in the contempt case. Associate Judge Adrian Burke, however, wrote in his dissenting opinion that Ryan's answers before the grand jury "follow the classic pattern of . . . contemptuous conduct in that they were vague, evasive, improbable and obvious untruthful."

In the conspiracy indictment Ryan was charged with conspiring to pay bribes and kickbacks to town officials. He was indicted after he testified before the grand jury.

Majority Decision
Associate Judge Stanley H. Fuld in yesterday's majority decision wrote:

"By virtue of the constitution of this state a prospective defendant or one who is a target of an investigation may not be called and examined before a grand jury and if he is, his constitutionally-conferred privileges against self-incrimination is deemed violated even though he does not claim or assert the privilege. The protection from indictment and from use of any incriminating testimony given by the defendant results automatically from the violation of the constitutional privilege, and the right and protection thus accorded by the constitution may not be taken away or cut down by statute."

"Section 2447 of the Penal Law, which prescribes the method by which an 'immunity' may be conferred upon 'witnesses' is unquestionably constitutional and valid, in so far as it is applied to witnesses who are, in truth and fact, witnesses."

"The statute does not apply in terms to a defendant or to one who is in the shoes of a defendant in so far as it provides that the burden is cast upon him of claiming privilege and any attempt to invoke it against such a person would offend against the constitutional provisions to which I have referred above. In other words, since the right granted by the constitution is automatically conferred, Section 2447 is ineffectual to destroy or curtail it and any attempt to do so must be stricken as unconstitutional."

Not Concerned With Immunity
"A violation of the constitutional privilege carries with it a dismissal of the indictment returned by the grand jury before

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

It seems, interest in the Mary Powell, Skillypot and Norwich never ceases although these boats live only in the memory of those who knew them. In the window of the Port Ewen Town Hall, is an excellent display of their models, and can be seen in the evenings as the window is well lit. I notice young folks who perhaps never saw a side-wheeler in action, park their bicycles to look at these models. No doubt, they have heard about them from their folks and wonder why all the excitement about these small quiet models.

Old timers remember these sturdy boats with all the fan fare when the steamers approached the dock, the moving walking beams, the churning of the water by the side-wheels, the bells, the whistles, the excitement. The Skillypot was just a chain-ferry, but like the others ran so long, it became a relative to those who used her.

This display arranged by the Town of Esopus Hudson-Champlain Committee showed the seven changes of the Mary Powell in good photos. The reason Port Ewen feels a warmth for the Mary Powell is because, Capt. Anderson who built her, lived in Port Ewen, opposite the Clay Road, which is now part of 9W. The Powell's winter quarters were in Port Ewen or Sleightburg. It is indeed sad that our wide and magnificent Hudson is no longer graced by the dainty Mary Powell, which stopped running over 40 years ago. We who live along the Hudson's shore and see the water wasted, when once thousands, daily during summer months, could enjoy the exquisite gift of nature in comfort on these large steamers, such as the Mary Powell. It was said, some of the steamers on the Hudson had passenger space for more people than a large ocean liner, that the young folks do not know when looking at the models.

In the window is also shown the license of Capt. Arthur A. Warrington, the last captain of the Mary Powell. There is also a clock, which it is said is from the Powell's Pilot House. There is a steamboat lantern, used by James Secor of Port Ewen. His name is engraved on the glass. There is also a model of the Norwich, the Skillypot, and Half Moon, all worth seeing. The end of the Mary Powell came officially in 1922 when it was dismantled by John Fischer who bought her. There was a bungalow built from her pilot house, and burned down a short time ago. It is said, that her record time from New York to Rondout, including eight landings, was 4 hours and 12 minutes.

I wonder how many folks know that the Mary Powell and the ferry-boat Transport crashed in the Rondout Creek in 1891,

The Powell was badly damaged but was able to proceed. It was said, the accident was caused by the "shoeing" of the Transport. On April 16, Tuesday, 1912, The Freeman described how the Powell ran aground on mud at Port Ewen and sprang some seams and was leaking. She was to be taken to Hoboken to be put on drydock for recaulking. Donkey pumps were being run to keep her hull free from water.

Some of the following was taken from an old New York newspaper covering the 51 years of Mary Powell's run on the Hudson. A photo shows Capt. A. E. Anderson, Capt. William Van Woert, Joseph Reynolds Jr., purser. The Powell made 27,000 trips during summer seasons, traveling 1,154,000 miles and handled an average of about 150,000 passengers every year. Her schedule called for 21 landings a day.

Beating Is Fatal To Troy Woman

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—A woman police said was beaten by an ex-convict died today.

Mrs. Corinne Delaney, 55, of Troy, died in Samaritan Hospital of injuries suffered last Saturday night.

Police have been holding Fred Conde, 39, who lived in Mrs. Delaney's home, on a second-degree assault charge.

Police said Mrs. Delaney told them at first that she had fallen from a ladder but later said she had been assaulted in an argument with Conde. The argument occurred, police said, after the two had returned from a picnic. Conde allegedly struck Mrs. Delaney with his fists.

Police said Conde had served time for burglary and grand larceny.

The men, brothers-in-law, were Milton Levine and Louis Strom, both 53. They were charged with possession of obscene literature, a misdemeanor.

U.S. Advisers Are Slain in Saigon

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A Communist terrorist slipped into an American military billet 20 miles north of Saigon Wednesday night during a movie and exploded a bomb, killing two U.S. military advisers, himself and three South Vietnamese.

Another American officer was wounded, and two others escaped injury.

The wounded American was flown to Clark Field at Manila for treatment. A communique from the South Viet Nam government and the U.S. Embassy said his condition was not serious.

Others Open Fire

Following the bomb attack, other members of the terrorist band opened fire from outside the billet with small arms and automatic weapons, the communique said.

Vietnamese army guards returned the fire, forcing the terrorists to flee to the nearby river from which direction they had come, the communique reported.

In Washington, the Army identified the American casualties as:

Killed—Maj. Dale R. Buis, who listed the address of his wife, Mrs. Virginia Lee Buis, Imperial Beach, Calif.; and M. Sgt. Chester M. Ovnand, wife, Mrs. Mildred H. Ovnand, Copperas Cove, Tex.

Wounded—Capt. Howard B. Boston, wife, Mrs. Ardyss Allene Boston, Blairburg, Iowa.

The attack occurred at the South Viet Nam army's training center at Bienhoa. The five U.S. officers were members of the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG) stationed in South Viet Nam to train President Ngo Dinh Diem's anti-Communist forces in the use of American weapons.

First Since 1957

The attack was the first on Americans in South Viet Nam since Oct. 22, 1957, when terrorists bombed the U.S. Information Agency library, an American military bus and a U.S. hotel, all in Saigon. Thirteen American servicemen and five Asians were wounded. None of the Americans were hurt seriously.

The war between France and the Communist Viet Minh ended in July 1954 with the signing of an armistice at Geneva partitioning Viet Nam. Since then there have been sporadic terrorist attacks in South Viet Nam by small bands of supporters of Communist President Ho Chi Minh's North Viet Nam regime.

Steel Outlook Is Dim; Ike's Plea To Talk Rejected

NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes dimmed today for averting a nationwide steel strike at midnight Tuesday.

The Steelworkers union turned down a plea by President Eisenhower for an indefinite extension of the two-week strike truce already granted by the union.

David J. McDonald, the union's president, said he could not believe Eisenhower intended that "we negotiate forever" and stressed the midnight July 14 walkout deadline will stand.

In Washington, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), told the Senate that Eisenhower's appeal for an indefinite extension of steel negotiations without deadline or strike date is "the grossest kind of intervention in collective bargaining."

Negotiations have picked up a bit. Technical experts have been called in for discussions on complicated problems such as incentive pay rates. But there is no word that the industry has made any money offer.

The nation's top dozen steel firms, led by U.S. Steel Corp., have taken a position that any higher wage costs would spur a new round of inflation. They have spurned union argument that industry profits can finance a new pay hike and other contract changes.

Steelworkers now average $3.10 hourly earnings.

Georgia Man Is Taken Back as Justice Fugitive

A Georgia man arrested February 20 by the Ulster County sheriff's office as a fugitive from justice left this morning in custody of a representative of the Georgia State Board of Corrections.

Allen (alias Bobby) Johnson, wanted by Atlanta authorities, was picked up here some time ago but refused to waive extradition.

After a hearing before Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth on a writ of habeas corpus Johnson was ordered returned to Georgia.

He was originally convicted of robbery and burglary but escaped from a Georgia work camp. It was reported today by County Investigator Arthur H. Brown.

Frol Gets Mixed Reception; Only 100 Pickets Show

CHICAGO (AP) — Soviet traveling salesman Frol R. Kozlov got a mixed, but somewhat restrained reception today at Chicago's City Hall.

The Soviet first deputy premier's arrival at the entrance brought a chorus of boos from 100 or so pickets. But the demonstrators were outnumbered by 240 policemen.

Daley Greets Kozlov

In Mayor Richard J. Daley's office, Kozlov received the official handshake and then answered through an interpreter, a number of questions by Daley, none embarrassing.

Kozlov said the Soviet Union is making great strides in practical education for its farm and industry workers, and building new homes everywhere for them.

When he left the building for a 60-mile auto trip to visit an Illinois corn farm, there was a crowd of about 1,000 on hand. Most appeared to be onlookers peering at a dozen placards held stationary by the pickets. There were some more boos as the motorcade took off.

It was an enlivening incident in a trip that otherwise appeared to be running out of steam and enthusiasm.

Kozlov continued to get along famously with some of the capitalists.

But the proletariat—the people the Communists invariably call the "toiling masses"—continued to greet his presence with a tremendous surge of apathy. This lack of public interest has marked Kozlov's entire cross-country barnstorming journey.

If a Soviet documentary film shows Moscow audiences crowds lining the route of Kozlov's motorcade into Chicago, it will be because the arrival coincided with the evening homeward bound rush hour.

Reds Try Bit

The crowds waited to cross streets through thick traffic. Two Soviet newsmen, riding in an open convertible, trained their cameras on the street corners and tried, even waving his free hand furiously, to persuade them in the crowd to wave back. This could provide at least a semblance of cheering masses for a documentary on the trip to be shown back home in the U.S.S.R.

But the film chronicle will have one item of propaganda value. On the way to the Inland Steel Co. plant in East Chicago, Ind. Wednesday, the motorcade passed a tiny, squalid slum of a few tired, down town tenements. The newsmen trained their cameras hungrily on the slum and a few poorly dressed Negro children nearby. They had few such opportunities on the other legs of their cross country tour.

Steel Chief Is Host

Kozlov himself was wine and dined Wednesday night at the South Shore Country Club. Edward Logelin, vice president of United States Steel Corp., was the host and steel executives were among the guests. Kozlov, a metallurgist, had toured steel plants during the day and had spoken glowingly of trade peace and friendship.

Kozlov's schedule today included a meeting with Mayor Richard J. Daley, a visit to mechanized farms for growing corn and a visit to a typical American farm home.

YMCA Day Camp Registers 138 On Second Week

Kingston YMCA Day Camp at Shokan had a banner attendance, starting its second week of the 1959 season with 138 boys and girls registered. It was announced by Assistant Camp director Richard W. Case.

The YMCA uses three buses to transport the campers to and from camp. Two of them leave the YMCA at 9 a. m., and one from the Crown Street Bus Station. More activities were provided this week. All campers are divided into tribes, each having a location or tent. These tribes have built many lean-tos which the campers are putting to practical use. The new float has been moved to the center of the swimming area and many campers are taking to the boating. Those who wish are given rowing instructions preparatory to a test.

During the first week swimming instructions were started. All campers that did not know how to swim are put into four different instructional classes according to their age and water know-how. The big specialty at camp, according to Director Louis Schafer, is the teaching of swimming. Messrs. Schafer and Case are being assisted in the swimming instructional program by Judy Madson, a senior at Wagner College, Staten Island. An excellent swimmer and teacher, Miss Madson took her life saving instructions in the Kingston YMCA during her high school days. Special swimming classes have also set up for all campers for their advance work. There are three different swimming tests each having 10 skills.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took a breather from its flight to four straight record highs and went irregularly lower early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the rule for most key stocks. Higher-priced issues such as Du Pont and Youngstown Sheet dropped more than 2.

Some of the steels and rails which have been leaders in the latest upsurge to historic market peaks were clipped by normal profit taking.

Utilities and drugs were up. Mail order-retail stocks advanced. Motors, steels, coppers, electronics and most chemicals were down.

Gains of more than a point by Woolworth and Western Union highlighted the performance of pivotal issues.

Losses of around a point were shown by U.S. Steel and Republic Steel. General Motors dropped a point.

New York Central dropped a sizable fraction. Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania Railroad and Southern Railway made moderate gains while Santa Fe, Illinois Central and Baltimore & Ohio declined moderately.

Chrysler, American Motors, U. S. Rubber, Caterpillar, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, International Nickel, American Cyanamid, General Electric, Standard Oil of Indiana, American Airlines and U. S. Gypsum were among the losers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 10 cents to $233.80 with the industrials down 80 cents, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities up 30 cents.

U.S. government bonds were firm.

of the board it presented on June 24 "a comprehensive, feasible and flexible program for the future growth of Kingston." This, it said, "included preparation of a survey and planning application for submission to the federal government requesting a capital grant reservation and advance of funds for an urban renewal project in an area selected by us and approved by the planning board and Common Council."

Done in Civic Interest

At the meeting, it said, "regardless of the board's decision to retain us, or any other planning firm, we offered, at no expense to the City of Kingston, a redevelopment study, the cost of which has been underwritten by our office in the best civic interest."

This, it said, includes 90 percent of the documentation required by the federal government in support of an application covering the survey and planning work in preparation of an urban renewal project. This documentation covers the Sixth, Seventh and First wards."

No Written Answer

The offer, said the letter, "has not as yet been publicly acknowledged, nor have we received any written acceptance of it. We assume that other submissions to the planning board have not included the documentation."

"The practical result of this," it continued, "is that the City of Kingston will be required to expend city funds for the preparation of a survey and planning application, but more important, this lack of documentation by other planners, could place urban renewal outside of the city's economic grasp for a long period to come, because the federal government has recently announced that it will press for a gradually declining share of federal aid in urban renewal."

Urges Immediate Action

At present, it held, "with our documentation, the federal government will pay two-thirds of the cost, and it is anticipated that if an urban renewal application is not submitted in the very near future, that the cost to the city will be one-half. This would mean that the city's share of the cost of any urban renewal project would increase from the present 17 to 50 percent."

The original offer to submit the survey, it said, still stands. "However, if the city wishes to make its own submission, we will make the entire study available."

"The immediate need," it said, "is for a program of slum clearance and urban renewal utilizing the maximum federal aid now available at the minimum cost to the city, although there is no doubt that there is a need for a comprehensive community program. Certainly the citizens of Kingston deserve their share of the federal funds now available for such work, and of which 500 communities across the nation have made use."

"We believe that the welfare and growth of our city demands that serious attention be given our recommendation, and that a survey and planning application to the federal government be submitted immediately, based upon our completed study."

Advice, Help Offered

"We are submitting this letter in furtherance of our sincerity, and you can rest assured that any advice, assistance or suggestions will be made available to you at your request."

The redevelopment study, including 35 drawings, Schrowang said, were made in conjunction with a Pratt Institute thesis.

The Schrowang proposal to the planning board listed a cost of $26,000. The Raymond & May figure is $32,000, plus $1,000 pertinent to making federal application.

It was noted that Murray M. Bisgaier, director of Community Housing and Planning, New York; William N. Breger, chairman of the department of design, Pratt Institute, and Olindo Grossi, Dean of the School of Architecture, Pratt Institute, would have been Schrowang consultants.

Ash Tray Wielder Remanded to Jail

Howard Brown, 35, of 60 Meadow Street, charged with hitting a woman with an ash tray, was booked on a second degree assault charge early today.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein today put the case over to Friday to permit the defendant time to obtain counsel. He is charged with having struck Helen Cooper, 17 West Strand, on the head at Dreamstreet Tavern, lower Broadway, between 11:30 p. m. and midnight.

Bail, fixed at $250 was not immediately posted and he was remanded to the county jail after court appearance this morning.

The arrest was by Detective Gurnsey Burger.

Police said Helen Cooper was treated at Benedictine Hospital for a cut on the right side of the head, which required five sutures.

The body was removed to the Ulster County morgue but Coroner Galletta indicated this morning that no autopsy was planned.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending consultation with U. S. Navy authorities.

Deaths At Scene

Frey, who had been engaged in the real estate business, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dutchess County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester H. Golding. Death was due to a fracture of the spine.

South Millbrook State Trooper Frank Hallock, who investigated the fatality at the scene, said Frey was driving his car west on Hollow Road and down a slight grade at an apparent high rate of speed, when the vehicle went off the north side of the road, veered back across the highway, glanced off an embankment and crashed into a tree.

Hurled From Car

The force of the impact hurled Frey from the automobile on the driver's side. Troopers said the mishap occurred near the Reginald Goode theater.

Dr. Golding gave a preliminary verdict of accidental death pending a formal inquest.

Troopers said they understood Frey was on his way to an undisclosed resort for a rest at the time of the accident.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Metal price ups and downs — long considered a good business barometer — are being watched as a strike barometer.

Recent weakness in copper prices is taken to mean that consumers consider a strike in this industry unlikely this summer.

Firmness in steel scrap prices, on the other hand, has been interpreted as meaning that scrap is being stockpiled in expectation of a strike. The idea is that scrap would be needed quickly and in volume when furnaces were started up again after a strike.

Aluminum price firmness is attributed largely to increasing demand. But underneath is the possibility that upcoming wage negotiations might break down and a strike would mean shortages.

Fear Dollar Erosion

Rarely has the annual labor-management tug-of-war received more public attention than today. This is because of the unusual concentration on the fear of further inflation — that is, dollar erosion.

Headlines go to the approaching climax in the steel talks. But business has been keeping an eye all along on what is happening in copper.

While labor and management have been discussing a new copper contract — now overdue, as in steel — copper stocks have been piling up in the world market, the threat of strikes offsets this. But this time the price of copper has been falling. A sharp break this week in the London market has been explained this way: Earlier this year fears of an American copper mine strike led consumers to build up stocks, and producers to increase output. When the contract deadline ran out without a break in wage negotiations, consumers started living off their stocks. And the supply of unsold new copper began to grow.

Price Weakness Spreads

In this country price weakness has been spreading. In less than a month domestic custom smelters have cut prices five times. On Tuesday it dropped to 29½ cents a pound. The custom smelters buy scrap and ore to refine copper. The major producers of new copper still were maintaining their old price — 31½ cents. But that price was the highest in the world, and U.S. consumers could import it for less, even with the transportation charges.

Copper producers think that increasing business activity will mean gains in copper demand so that the present lull may be just temporary. They stress that in addition to the natural consumer caution while awaiting outcome of the wage talks, there is the upcoming season of vacations by many copper fabricators. This always tends to slacken demand for the metal.

But in the copper futures market the thinking is different. Belief is widespread that consumers have built up stocks to take care of a strike threat, and that they now feel that they've overdone it. And because demand for copper usually goes up and down with the demand for steel, a strike in the latter industry could cut off much of the activity in the entire metalworking field.

A manufacturing concern during the war period applied for priority on 100 ft. machinery belt. In due time came a letter from the agency asking how much of the firm's production was for war purposes. The firm filled out the questionnaire, stated that about 75 per cent of its work was war production. Back came the requested priority—for a 75ft. belt.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Central Schools District will be held on Tuesday, July 14, at 7:30 p. m. in the gymnasium of the Boiceville building.

Officials of the meeting, previously appointed by the board, will organize the meeting so the polls may be opened Wednesday, July 15, from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The budget committee will be present for the annual meeting. Thor Krogh, publisher of the Ontario Record, is chairman of the annual meeting.

An informal discussion may be held at this time on the school budget (July 14) or any other matters that pertain to the conduct of the meeting. However, voters may not increase or reduce the amount of any item of the budget at this meeting.

Voting Information

On Wednesday, July 15, the polls will be open between 2 p. m. and 9 p. m. to: (1) vote on the budget; (2) elect 3 members to the Board of Education. Two members will each be elected for 5-year terms and one member will be elected for a 1-year term.

Voting for candidates and the budget will be by voting machines. Candidates names will be placed on the voting machines in alphabetical order for each vacancy to be filled. Candidates need only a plurality to be elected.

Republican Club Announces Plans for Political Rally

Plans for an old fashioned political rally in Woodstock on Sept. 19 have been announced by James M. Hamlin of Zena, president of the Woodstock Republican Club.

Aside from an address by a prominent political figure—the hallmark of such events—there will be an award of outstanding value, dinner, free refreshments and music.

In keeping with tradition, the rally is planned to acquaint the voters with the issues in the November elections, as give them an opportunity to meet and talk with those personalities who will be involved in the local campaign.

Members of the initial planning committee for the rally include Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Longendyke Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hastie, Fred G. Freitag, W. Greene, J. S. Slocum, Kenneth L. Wilson, Supervisor Joseph Fitzsimmons, Abram F. Molyneux and James McVitty.

SPCA Plans Fair In Woodstock

Final plans have been completed for a fair to be held Thursday and Friday (July 16-17) by the Ulster County SPCA at the Woodstock Methodist Church hall. The fair opens at 10 a. m. and continues throughout the day.

The nearly-new department will feature men's suits, lingerie, shoes, dresses, coats and suits. The new department will have hosiery, dresses, blouses, lingerie, handbags and costume jewelry.

Available in the home department will be pots, pans, dishes and small electrical appliances. There will also be cakes, pies, cookies and salads.

Persons interested in donating baked goods or articles may do so by contacting Mrs. James H. Stoutenburgh of Glenford, the SPCA shelter or Margaret E. Johnson, or those in the Woodstock area may leave donations with Betty Barnes at her antique shop.

Foreign Aid Bill Voted by Senate Over 3½ Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a foreign aid bill with a $3,543,320,000 price tag. That's about 10 per cent less than President Eisenhower asked.

The authorization measure merely sets the ceiling for foreign aid spending. The actual amount to be spent will be determined in a later appropriation bill.

Further Cuts Fall

Efforts to make further slashes in the amount asked by Eisenhower failed Wednesday in the final day of debate. All of the 383½ million dollars in cuts had been voted Tuesday.

Final action came after Eisenhower indicated at a news conference he might call Congress back into a special session later this year if his request was sliced too deeply. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas joined Republicans in helping to fend off further reductions during the final debate.

The Senate measure allows $1,300,000,000 for military aid to Allies and 751½ millions in defense economic supports to help Allies maintain their troops. The rest is for various forms of economic aid.

$300 Million Less

The military provision is 300 million dollars less than the President request. The economic aid is 83½ million under what he asked.

The Senate total is only $720,000 above that voted by the House. Senate and House conferees plan to meet next week to settle the differences on where to apply the cuts.

The measure passed the Senate Wednesday night by a vote of 63-26 with the support of 29 Democrats and 26 Republicans. Eighteen Democrats and eight Republican senators voted against final passage.

Other Forecasts Are Hazardous

High Court Predictable Only on Racial Decisions

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The present Supreme Court is not completely predictable on anything except its opposition to various forms of racial segregation.

Of the nine justices who handed down the historic and unanimous decision on public school segregation in 1954, only justices Warren, Black, Douglas, Frankfurter and Clark are left.

Yet the four justices who joined them since then—Harlan, Brennan, Whitaker and Stewart—have voted in unanimity with them in case after case involving segregation.

Opinions Are Liberal
Once outside that field, forecasts on opinion day get hazardous. Yet, year after year, the opinions of this court are much more on what is called the liberal than on the conservative side.

Justices Warren, Black, Douglas and Brennan vote together pretty consistently—but not always—as a liberal bloc. But there are only four of them and there are nine justices.

Thus the views of these four men can never prevail unless they are joined by one or more of the other five. It often happens.

Those five—Frankfurter, Harlan, Clark, Whitaker, Stewart—can be considered more conservative than the other four, but in varying degrees. Whitaker and Stewart are perhaps the most conservative.

Yet, to make the picture more confusing, Clark, a frequent dissenter and often a fiery critic of the liberals, sometimes votes with them and does so consistently on segregation cases, even though he is a Southerner.

Two More Flexible
Frankfurter and Harlan seem the more flexible. Frankfurter has been credited with major influence on the conservative side as a restraining force. Actually, judging by votes, this influence may be exaggerated.

Some examples show the switches in the court:

In the famous John T. Watkins case of 1957 Justices Warren, Harlan and Brennan cracked down on congressional investigating committees.

They ruled a witness, before he could be held in contempt for not answering, had to be shown that the questions asked were pertinent to the investigation. This angered many members of Congress. But they tightened up their hearings.

Minority Lost Out

Then this year, confronted with a somewhat similar case, the court majority upheld the fairness of a committee hearing. Just as in the Watkins case, in this one Justices Warren, Black, Douglas and Brennan also voted for the defendant. But this time they were in a minority and lost.

Frankfurter and Harlan—who had gone along with the liberal bloc on Watkins—joined forces with Whitaker, Clark and Stewart to make a majority on the other side.

Yet all nine justices joined together to throw out in three other cases the contempt convictions of people who had balked at answering questions by state or congressional committees.

And, the nine justices voted unanimously to beat down a New York censorship ban on a movie: "Lady Chatterley's Lover."

Then again the court ruled, 5-4, that radio and TV stations have immunity from libel suits for remarks made in political broadcasts. This time Clark joined Warren, Black, Douglas and Brennan to make up the majority.

Flexes Muscles, Too

Just as some people thought the court showed signs of backing down under criticism for upsetting too many congressional and operations, the court showed its muscles unimpaired.

It threw out the Defense Department's industrial security program because neither Congress nor President Eisenhower had authorized it. Under this program those defense plant employees tagged as security risks could be fired without a chance to confront or cross-examine their accusers.

On this vote was 8-1, with Clark the lone dissenter.

Bender to Face Challenge Today On 1954 Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Sen. George H. Bender faces today a challenge of his statement that he received neither political support nor money from the Teamsters Union in his 1954 election campaign.

The Senate rackets probes, who heard Bender volunteer the statement Wednesday, invited him back to reply to affidavits from two Teamsters officials who said the union switched its support to Bender that year.

The affidavits said the switch was made on orders from William Presser, a top Ohio union official then under investigation by a House subcommittee which Bender headed.

Bender was a Republican member of the House from Ohio for 14 years. In 1954, he defeated Democrat Thomas Burke for the senate seat of the late Robert A. Taft, but was defeated when he sought reelection in 1956.

He since has been hired by Teamster Investigator James R. Hoffa to investigate corruption within the union.

The affidavits from Walter Schulz and Otto Frobe, officials of Cincinnati Local 100, said Presser refused at the time to explain his reasons for switching the union's support to Bender from Burke.

Seek Jobs Back, 20 PC Pay Hike

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP)—The 15 longshoremen fired by the Oswego Port Authority want their jobs back with a 20 per cent increase in their pay.

The authority said Wednesday the demand was unrealistic because revenue from grain traffic was down.

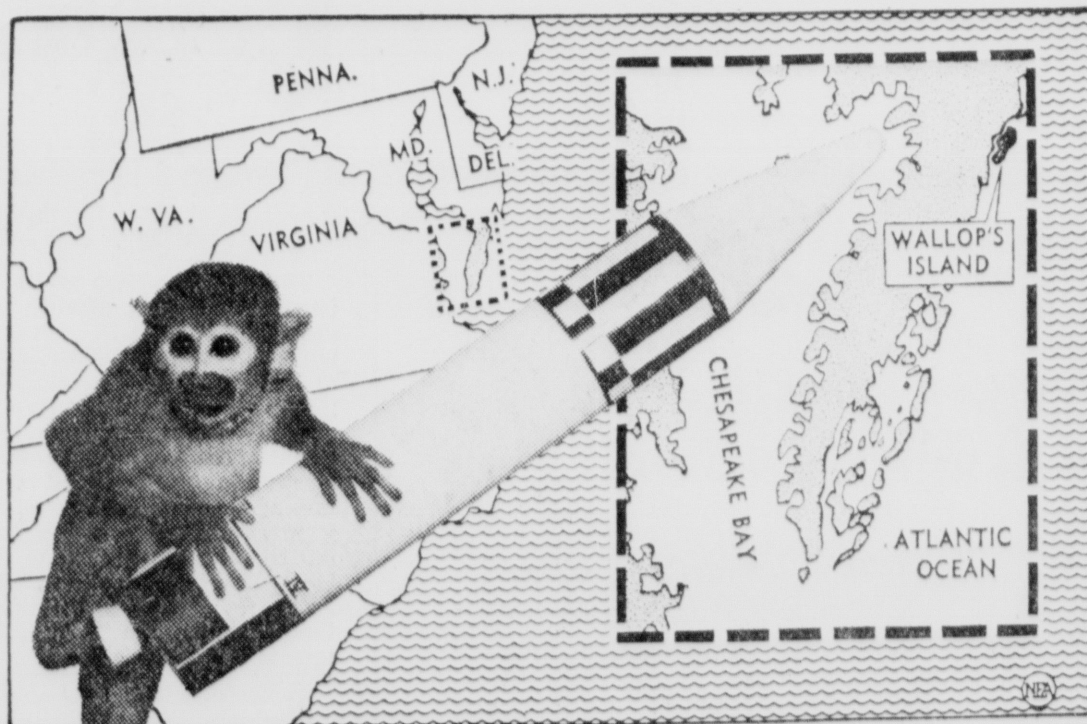

The 15 men were fired after they walked off their jobs at the city grain elevator last Thursday. The elevator was closed.

The International Longshoremen's Union presented contract demands of the 15. The authority has refused to recognize the union as bargaining agent for the men. The authority said the men received increases in pay in June. The spokesman did not say what the adjustments were.

MORE MONKEY BUSINESS—America's third and newest rocket-launching site is Wallops Island, Va., a strip of sand on the peninsula forming Chesapeake Bay (see Newsmap). (The other two are Cape Canaveral, Fla. and Vandenberg AFB, Calif.) Riding high on a Jupiter missile in the foreground is a little squirrel monkey. Two of this type were recently fired 1,700 miles from Cape Canaveral by the Army. At Wallops Island, other members of his family—rhesus monkeys and a chimpanzee—are scheduled to take rides in man-size capsules in July or August. Methods of recovering the capsule will be tested, preparing for the day when a human makes the journey.

Central to Seek Washington OK To Drop Trains

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New York Central Railroad says it will go over the head of New Jersey and appeal to Washington in an attempt to discontinue its remaining 20 passenger trains on the West Shore division.

Alfred E. Perlman, Central president, made that announcement Wednesday at a hearing by a Senate commerce subcommittee into the commuter problem.

Jersey Blocking Move
Perlman said the Central would file a petition within the next few days with the Interstate Commerce Commission to discontinue the trains.

The railroad has filed abandonment petitions with the New Jersey Public Utility Commission but Perlman claimed that agency was blocking the move with "frustrating delaying tactics."

The New York State Public Service Commission has given its approval to the discontinuance. The West Shore division extends from New York City to Buffalo, N. Y. Except for the commuter trains in the New York metropolitan area, the line now carries freight exclusively.

Under the Transportation Act of 1958, the law under study by the Senate subcommittee, a railroad can file discontinuance petitions with either a state regulatory body or the ICC.

Losing $3,100 Daily
Perlman contended that since abandonment of the Weehawken Ferry, the number of passengers on the West Shore division dropped from 3,000 to 155 daily. Perlman said the railroad was losing $3,100 a day.

Turning toward a bill designed to aid commuters, Perlman said this proposed legislation would be a step toward government ownership of the railroads.

The bill, sponsored by Sens. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ), would require public hearings in all rail curtailment cases, would eliminate all time limits under which the ICC now operates and would place the burden of proof in curtailment cases on the railroads.

"This would superimpose a harsh and strict federal regulation upon the arbitrary state regulation which has caused so much expensive mischief in the past," Perlman said.

Would Weaken System
He said the proposed legislation would weaken the whole interstate railroad system.

Case's bill is backed by commuter groups, many senators, House members and state officials. The ICC generally favors its provisions.

Under present law, a railroad can discontinue a train within 30 days after serving notice with the ICC, unless the ICC intervenes.

Perlman spent much of his time on the witness stand criticizing what he termed the "ridiculous actions" of state regulatory agencies, particularly those in New York and New Jersey.

He was also critical of tax laws in the two states, where he said tax rates on railroads were the highest in the nation.

Ike Signs Bills
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has signed bills appropriating $3,971,362,673 to the Agriculture Department and $13,463,500 to the office of the President for the fiscal year that started July 1.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Good old chuck roast is back again in the supermarket spotlight this week as housewives seek to balance the budget after the holiday.

More expensive roasts, such as standing ribs and top or bottom round, are featured in some stores and steak gets the call in a few places.

Pork Coming Down

Pork, however, is expected to be made much in evidence for the rest of the summer. Pork chops are marked down 4 to 10 cents a pound over a wide area and further drops are expected. The bargains reflect a steep, continuing climb in production. Federal figure filberts estimate 1959 pig births at 104,000,000, highest in 16 years. This compares with 94,800,000 in last year and 88,000,000 in 1957. In addition, marketings this summer have been higher than expected, which means added competition for cold storage meat.

Hogs, hams and bellies—From which bacon is made—all declined at the wholesale level for the second straight week. It was the fourth consecutive drop for hogs.

Leg of Lamb also is the top bargain in some areas, reflecting scattered price cuts of 4 to 6 cents a pound, while fryers come in for attention again with cuts off 1 to 4 cents a pound.

Egg Prices Decline

Egg prices turned downward again after a brief runup, dropping 1 to 6 cents a dozen over a fairly wide area.

Best vegetable buys are snap beans, nearby lettuce, yellow or green squash, yellow or green onions, spinach and tomatoes. Good buys can be found, too, among cabbage, western lettuce, green peppers, cucumbers, cauliflower, endive, escarol, broccoli, potatoes and topped carrots. Eggplant, peas and celery are moderately priced.

TOMORROW'S OCEAN LINER?—A giant helicopter, 300 feet long, powered by nuclear energy, takes flight from the drawing board in artist's conception above. It's more than a flight of fancy, however. Preliminary studies for such a craft have just been completed for the Air Force by Bell Helicopter Corp., though there are no plans at present to build it. The projected behemoth would weigh half a million pounds—10 times more than any 'copter in existence—and be able to carry troops, passengers or cargo on its many decks at over 200 miles per hour. Atom power could keep it aloft indefinitely, giving it virtually unlimited range.

Four to Face Navy Trial on Assault

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A Navy court martial will try four enlisted men next Tuesday on charges of aggravated assault on a Norwegian postal employee.

The men, all in their early 20s, allegedly assaulted Oskar Trygve Heider, 37, in Oslo July 10 of last year while the sailors' ship, the aircraft carrier Intrepid, was in Norwegian waters.

The defendants are Raymond Sharabba, 21, airman apprentice of Monmouth, N. J., Peter V. Mitchell, 20, airman, of Wayne, N. Y., Dominic R. Cameli, 20, airman, of San Jose, Calif., and Lawrence C. Byres, 23, aviation boatswain airman, of Flushing, N. Y.

Stolen Car Ring Under Probe by Canada and U.S.

MONTREAL (AP)—Agencies in Quebec, Ontario, Vermont and New York State were working today to uncover what Quebec police say may be a large stolen-car ring.

Three raids—in Granby and Drummondville, Que., and Burlington, Vt.—netted six stolen automobiles. Two men were arrested.

Quebec Provincial Police said Wednesday the ring had stolen at least 100 cars in the last seven or eight months.

They said thieves picked up the automobiles in Montreal or Ottawa, drove them to hideouts in Quebec's Eastern Townships and dismantled for sale as parts or repainted for re-sale.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police said the focal point of distribution appeared to be the Burlington, Vt., area. But a provincial policeman said a hush-hush car auction sale at Albany, N. Y., might have been the "cemetery of stolen cars from Quebec."

In Albany, John Neil, local agent for the national Automobile Theft Bureau, an insurance organization, said there was only one auction in the Albany area and he was sure stolen cars had not been sold there.

He said, however, he had located stolen cars in dealer's lots in Rensselaer and Plattsburgh.

New York State Police would not say whether they were investigating. The FBI also remained mum.

Billion Water Projects Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved a bill that calls for an expenditure of $1,258,836,300 for construction and planning of water projects in the fiscal year that began July 1.

The measure approved Wednesday, compares with $1,177,177,000 in the bill recently passed by the House and $1,176,677,000 budgeted by President Eisenhower.

The Senate committee ignored Eisenhower's recommendation that no new projects be started this year. The House also ignored the recommendation.

Appropriations approved for projects in New York State included:

New York: Construction—Barcelona Harbor $506,000; Buffalo Harbor, north entrance $2,150,000; Buffalo Harbor, Ohio street Bridge $2,000,000; Endicott, Johnson City and Vestal, $1,700,000; Great Lakes to Hudson River Waterway $730,000; Hudson River 32-foot channel to Albany $300,000; Oswego Harbor $657,000; Irondequoit Bay $129,000. Planning—Nichols $40,000; Herkimer $48,000.

matter of FACT

The emperor Nero was suspected of having started the great fire of 64 A.D. in Rome, which destroyed all but four of the 14 districts, because he had long been seeking an excuse to rebuild the city. He rebuilt it splendidly; he widened the streets and used stone instead of wood for houses. As if to avert suspicion, he permitted the Christians to be blamed for the fire. He slaughtered them wholesale, using their bodies as torches to illuminate his gardens.

Judge Okays Movie

CHICAGO (AP) — The movie "Anatomy of a Murder," banned by the city police censor board, was permitted to be shown Wednesday by U.S. District Judge Julius H. Miner. He ruled it was not obscene or corruptive of the public morals.

Columbia Pictures Corp., distributors of the movie, had brought suit to prevent Police Commissioner T.J. O'Connor from demanding certain deletions in the film.

Summer High Schools Increase in Number

ALBANY — The number of summer high school programs in New York State has increased to a new record high, the State Education Department announced today.

Dr. Walter S. Crewson, associate commissioner, announced that a preliminary report from the division of secondary education shows that the number of full-fledged public summer high school programs has increased from 80 in 1958 to 110 this summer. He also stated the number of limited high school programs where state approval is given to advanced courses in mathematics, science and in driver education has increased from 19 in 1958 to 38 in 1959. The number of private schools offering summer programs also increased from 27 last summer to 31 this year.

Dr. Crewson reported it is estimated that at the very least there will be a one-third increase in summer school enrollment when final attendance reports are available.

Didn't Need Duplicate

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Wells-Fargo guard J. T. Sprinkle found himself on the outside of his armored truck looking in Wednesday. He accidentally left the key inside.

Sprinkle called his office for a duplicate key.

Meanwhile, James R. Fain Jr., manager of a branch bank, came up with a solution to the problem. A coat hanger, a piece of chewing gum, and a little maneuvering retrieved the key.

Sprinkle was in the truck when the duplicate key arrived.

Middletown Book Gives Fire Dept. History, Pictures

MIDDLETOWN — The story of the Middletown Fire Department, from 1859 to 1959, is told in text and pictures in the Department's Centennial Celebration book published today.

Called "Brave Men and Bright Machines," the 188-page hardcover book contains more than 200 illustrations of firemen, equipment and fire news over the 100 years the department has been serving this community.

Material for the book was compiled and edited by Charles L. Radzinsky, a native of Middletown and a member of Monahan Hose Company. Radzinsky also designed the attractive cream and red cover for the book. A brief biography of the author is contributed by Marvin H. Cohen, a member of the Centennial's History Committee which assisted in assembling photographs and fireman lore for the book. There is also an introduction by the Rev. Wilbur P. Parker, chaplain of Eagle Engine Co. No. 2, Middletown.

Radzinsky has avoided the stereotyped method of presenting history as a matter of dates. He has divided his account into "eras" and by making generous use of news reports gleaned from old newspapers, he has come up with a highly interesting and factual tale of the Middletown Fire Department. The history is told mainly in six chapters, from the "Era of the Hand Pumper" to the "Era of Radio Communication."

In addition the book lists the rosters of all companies, auxiliaries and other fireman organizations in the city.

Sale of the book starts today. Proceeds will help defray the cost of the Centennial Celebration of the Department, Aug. 23-29. Orders are being accepted by the Historical Committee, Central Fire House, Middletown.

Town of Esopus Brochure Ready For Distribution

A brochure prepared by the Town of Esopus Hudson Champlain Committee on the township is ready for distribution today.

The brochure is being distributed throughout the area as well as to Chambers of Commerce and travel agencies throughout New York State.

The 12-page booklet contains a list of the special events to take place in the Town of Esopus during 1959, as well as a map of the township, and list of local places of interest to visit including historical and religious sites located in the town.

The cover of the booklet carries a photograph of the shrine of "Our Lady of the Hudson" located on the Church of the Presentation grounds, Port Ewen. Photographs of John Burroughs' "Slabside" at West Park and Ferrine's covered bridge at Rifton are included on the inside of the brochure.

The booklet was compiled and edited by a special committee of the Town Hudson-Champlain Committee headed by Reuben Gullian.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The bulk of an estate estimated at $700,000 has been left to the United Nations by a 47-year-old spinster.

Miss Beulah Edge's will was filed for probate Wednesday. It named the U.N. as beneficiary "in the fervent hope that this relatively small contribution may be of some effect in bringing about universal peace on earth and good will among men."

U.N. officials in New York said the money would be put into the general fund for whatever use the General Assembly may approve.

Miss Edge died here Friday.

Miss Carolyn Hogan, Dean W. Rounds Are United in Marriage at New Paltz Church

NEW PALTZ — Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Reformed Church, Miss Carolyn Hogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hogan, 10 South Oakwood Terrace, became the bride of Dean W. Rounds of Greene. The Rev. Gerret Wulfschlegel officiated.

The altar was decorated with white flower arrangements and the organ music was played by Mrs. Arthur Kurtz.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Joan Kopper, New Paltz, as maid of honor. Miss Jeannette Hogan, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

The bride wore a chapel length gown of French imported Chantilly lace over taffeta. Her fingertip veil fell from a white tiara and she carried a white Bible arranged with an orchid.

The honor attendant's street length dress was of ice blue crystal made with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. The bridesmaid wore a similar dress of coral crystal. Both wore headbands and veils to match their dress. The maid of honor carried a cascade of pink sweetheart roses and white carnations, while the bridesmaid carried a cascade of pink sweetheart roses and lighter pink carnations.

Curtis Collins, college roommate of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushering were George Eckstrom, Edward Capra, Lawrence Huntley and William Schrader, all of Greene.

After the ceremony there was reception at the Christian Education building of the church. Upon their return from a week's trip to Maine, the couple will live in Greene. In the fall they plan to move to Syracuse where they will both attend school.

A graduate of New Paltz Central School, Mrs. Rounds now is a junior at Syracuse University. Mr. Rounds was graduated from the Greene Central School and also is a junior at Syracuse University where he is a member of Phi Gamma Delta, national social fraternity.

SPCA Fair Plans Are Completed; Will Be Held in Woodstock

Final plans have been completed for a fair to be held Thursday and Friday, July 16 and 17, by the Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The event will be held at the Woodstock Methodist Church Hall starting at 10 a. m. and continuing through the day.

The fair is another fund raising event to help defray the operating costs of the animal shelter maintained by the SPCA. Various departments at the fair will include refreshment, new and nearly new, and home goods. Homemade aprons, books and knick-knacks will also be on sale. A food sale will be conducted.

Those interested in donating baked goods or articles for the booths may contact Mrs. James H. Stoutenberg of Glenford, the SPCA shelter or Margaret B. Johnson. Those in the Woodstock area may leave donations with Betty Barnes.

Girl Scout News

Ulster County's Girl Scout camp, Camp Wendy at Walkkill, opened its 1959 summer season Sunday with 104 campers and 27 staff, a capacity enrollment. There are 31 Brownie Scouts and 73 Intermediates, and they come, not only from Ulster County but from many places outside of the county: Goshen Monticello, Mountandale, Elmont, Woodridge, Sysslet, Woodbourne, Levittown, South Fallsburg, Wadsworth, South Hempstead, Rhinebeck, Newburgh, Hopelawn, West Islip, Bronx, Bedford Village, Pleasantville, Fishkill, Croton Falls, Lyndhurst, and Fords, N. J.

One of the counselors, Lynn Clerici, came all the way from California to be on the Wendy staff, and her reason for wanting to come to Ulster County, she says, is that a friend in her home town was once a camper (in the 1920's) at Wendy and later as a counselor (in the 1930's). The friend's descriptions of the beauty of Ulster County and of Camp Wendy have made Miss Clerici want to work at Wendy, and she felt that the experience would be well worth what it cost her to come so great a distance. (The counselors provide their own transportation to and from camp.)

For the past week there has been an intensive "pre-camp training" period, under the supervision of Miss Barbara Plate, director, and Miss Joyce Birdsell, assistant director. The counselors have learned, partly by hearing experienced instructors speak, and partly by practice in the camp skills they will teach to their campers, how to carry out their assignments. Consultants who have helped with this training are:

Mrs. Calvin Wygant Sr., president of the Council; Mrs. Kenneth Martin, vice president and former director of Camp Wendy; Mrs. Robert Greene, chairman of the camping committee; Miss Eunice Thomson, executive director; and Mrs. Jerry Blair, district director.

Campers will find many changes at Wendy since last season, among these some new buildings, a new cold-water drinking fountain, new row-boats and new canoes, a new pump, new diving board, new trading post area. A special "Thank-You Day" is being planned with appropriate ceremonies of appreciation to individuals, civic clubs, and other groups who have made these improvements possible, the date to be announced later.

The Ulster County Girl Scout Council is a Red Feather agency of the Kingston Community Chest.

PUTTING BREAD BACK ON PLATE

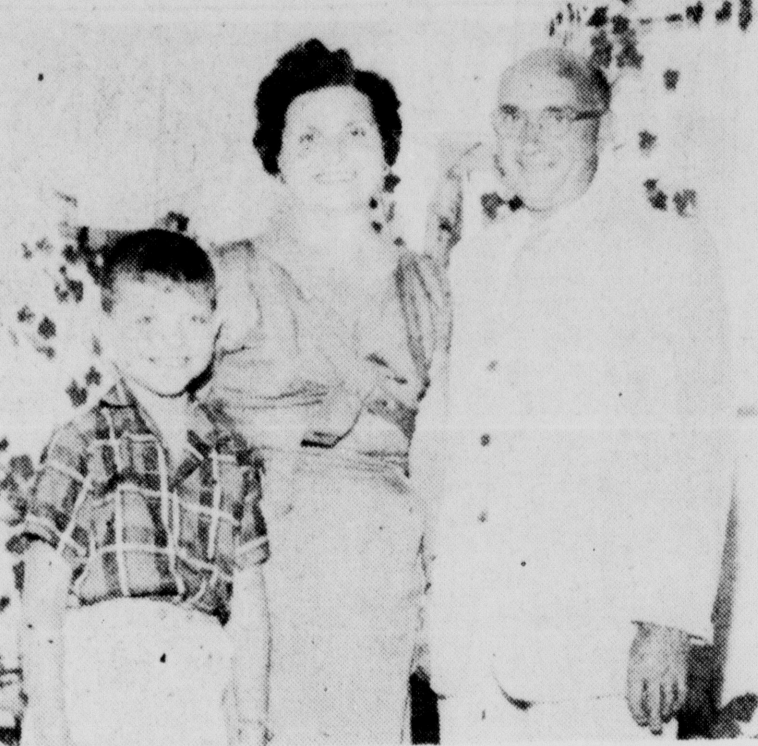

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please settle a point of table manners that has been causing some argument in our house. We have no one waiting on table and all the serving dishes, including the bread tray, are put on the table and passed around. My sister takes a slice of bread from the tray, brakes it in half and puts the other half back. (She is watching her calories.) I have told her time and again that it is very bad table manners to put the bread back for others to eat after she has touched it. She sees nothing wrong in this and says it would be wasteful to leave it on her plate to be thrown away. Will you please give your opinion of this?

Answer: You are right. It is not good manners to put the piece of bread she has handled back on the tray.

She Prefers 'Miss Jones'

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a real estate saleswoman in my forties and am not married. I avoid using my first name as much as possible because I prefer the formality of "Miss Jones" in business. All too frequently I will be asked by clients, "What is your first name?" I reply, I never use it. I prefer "Miss Jones." I feel justified in making this squelch, but have been told that this is very rude. I would appreciate your opinion.

Answer: You have every right to ask to be called "Miss Jones" in business and to reserve your first name for your family and close personal friends.

family and close personal friends.

This Best Man Is Shy

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it always necessary for the best man to propose the toast to the bride and groom at the reception? I'm terrible at such things and am the best man; one of the ushers is a "natural" at making pretty speeches and yet he insists he can't do it as it's supposed to be my privilege—or duty—whichever way you look at it.

Answer: Tell him that you really want him to propose the toast and that as you don't mind having your place usurped, there is nobody else who can possibly object.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet "Buffet Dinners, Lunches and Suppers," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

ROBERTA GADDIS of Sunset Park, a member of the Hurley Festival Chorus, rehearses a solo number for the performance of the Hurley Folk Cantata Saturday 7 p. m. in Hurley.

Hurley Festival Chorus Will Present Area History in Music at Folk Cantata July 11

Hurley's festival in celebration of New York's Year of History will premiere the story of Hurley in song. The Hurley Folk Cantata Saturday, 7 p. m.

Folk songs old and new will be performed on the banks of the Esopus. These are the same grounds on which the early settlers lived through joy and sadness, and to where the farmer and son sought respite and relaxation in fishing and swimming.

The musical folk story of Hurley performed by the Festival Chorus contains 25 folk tunes chosen to personalize the life of the folk.

Thirty-two voices representative of 11 Ulster County communities make up the membership of the chorus.

Several songs written for the story of Hurley have been praised highly by all who have heard them. One in particular was mentioned as "beautiful," "the most beautiful I've heard in many years."

Through 300 years the audience will be musically carried along on the calm and frantic waters of the Hudson, viewing the history and folk of the valley. Upon this very ground as the story goes, settlers praise the Lord for all things good. The faint but ominous sound of tom-toms increase as the story is sung of the Indian attack on the unsuspecting villagers. As though standing amidst burning ruins a settler pours out his troubled heart in a quiet song.

The cantata ends with the beautiful and seldom heard arrangement of the folk song, "Down in the Valley."

The performance of the Hurley Folk Cantata is free to the public. The site for the musical program is large enough to seat approximately 8,000 persons.

In the event of rain the program will be given on the following day, Sunday at 7 p. m.

Included in the program will be: Praise Ye, The Indians, The Indians, Heart So Troubled, Sing a Song of the Miller, The Star of Importance, Affairs, March of Judicials, Daniel Taylor, Cheesemans of Hurley, The Church that Stands in Hurley, Sojourner Truth and She Trod the Weary Mile, all by Carolyn Waligurski.

Ribbon of Beauty, Frederic Snyder and Fernand Barrette; Battle Hymn of the Republic, Julia Ward Howe; Lather and Shave, all arranged by Mrs. Waligurski.

Old Hundred, old Dutch psalter; Trip a Trop a Tronjes, Five Finger Rhymes, Sleep Little One, Sleep, Dutch nursery songs and lullabies; A-Roving, Dutch seafaring song; Old Colony Times, early ballad of the colonies; Drunklied, old Dutch tune arranged by Vander Weyde.

'Twas Winter and Blue Tory Noses, pre-Revolutionary parody to the Banks of the Dee; Johnny Has Gone for a Soldier, Hudson Valley song; Yankee Doodle, traditional arranged by R. A. Dale; Wagon Trains, old Dutch Tune, and Down in the Valley, folk song arranged by L. E. Walters.

Calls for Joint Crackdown to Nab Chiselers on Taxes

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Uncle Sam's chief tax collector today called for a joint federal-state crackdown on tax cheats.

Dana Latham, commissioner of Internal Revenue, said:

"Only by combining forces can we close the sieve that the chiselers try to make out of our income taxes."

In a speech prepared for the annual conference of the National Assn. of Tax Administrators, Latham urged more sharing of information from federal and state tax returns.

Information could be recorded on electronic tapes which could be traded back and forth between federal and state tax agents, he said.

Federal law permits the sharing of federal tax data with state tax officials. This usually is done on a reciprocal basis.

Latham said the willingness of honest taxpayers to comply with the law will be preserved "only if our enforcement efforts protect their interests and bring the would be evaders to justice."

The increasingly heavy burden of collecting taxes from a growing population "clearly needs all our mutual effort," Latham said.

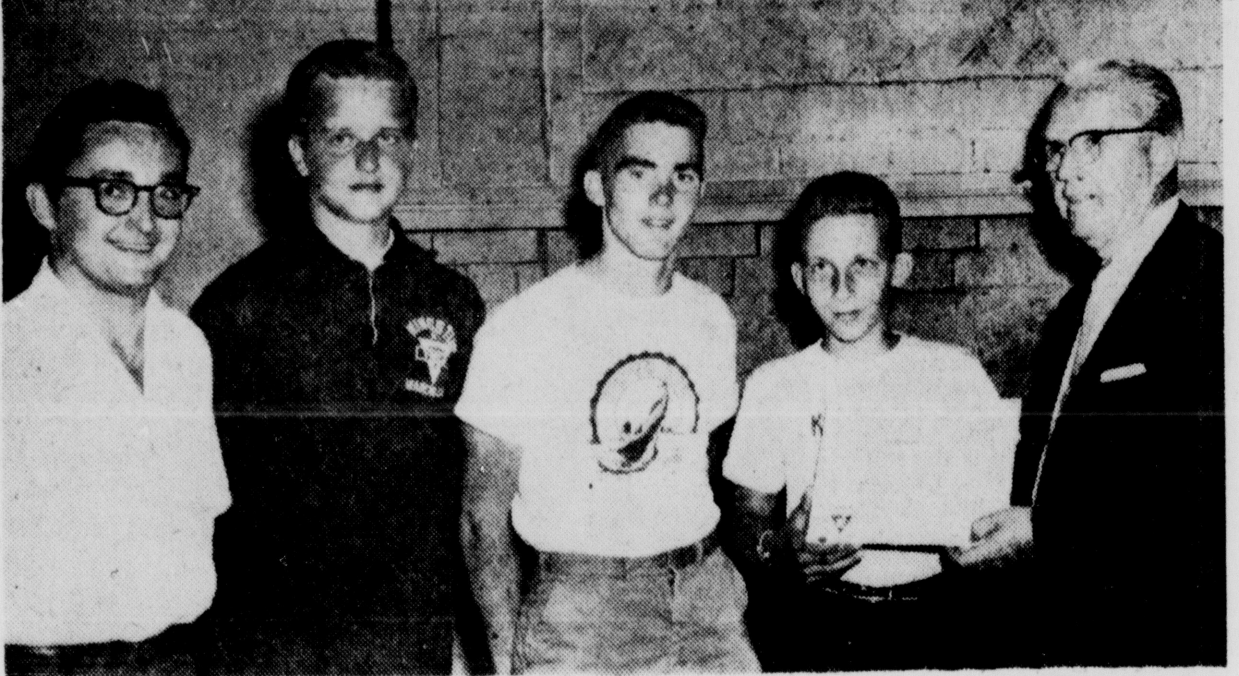

The tax chief said IRS currently is making a survey to help in planning further coordination of federal-state tax enforcement.

Marlboro Driver Is Held for Jury

Justice of the Peace John J. McCourt of Marlboro has referred to the Ulster County grand jury a charge of operating a car while intoxicated, which was made against Morris Peterson, Hampton Road, Marlboro, according to Highland State Trooper James Kaljian.

Peterson was accused of the charge after an accident on Western Avenue, Marlboro, June 26.

Trooper Kaljian who made the charge said the case was referred to the grand jury because Peterson had a previous drunk-driving conviction in Newburgh. The troopers said a car driven by Peterson was involved in a collision with two other cars and struck a tree just west of Route 9W.

Troubled Argentina Celebrates Freedom

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina celebrated independence day today a free but troubled nation. The independence was won from Spain in 1816, and four years ago from Dictator Juan D. Peron and his police state. But the dictator left behind a legacy of a nearly bankrupt economy, galloping inflation, labor unions militantly trying to preserve the favored position Peronism gave them and a restive group of military officers.

Freedom Important

"Things may be difficult now," an Argentine will tell you, "but we have freedom."

There is evidence of it in the streets of Buenos Aires.

President Arturo Frondizi's government is attacked and defended. Conflicting opinions burst forth from newspapers which Peron had muzzled or silenced.

A month ago the Argentines were threatened with a loss of their new freedom, a resurgence of Peronism and the possibility of a military coup to counter the ex-dictator's followers.

The June unrest began over living hardships—Frondizi's austerity program.

The labor unions again demanded higher wages and other benefits.

Communists and ardent nationalists were blasting Frondizi's acceptance of foreign investments to help develop the nation's oil.

And the military grew increasingly critical of the president.

Economy in Question

For a time rebellious officers, headed by retired leaders of the revolt against Peron, threatened to unseat the elected president. But much of the military abstained from rebellion. Frondizi made several changes in his government, including the appointment of Alvaro Alsogaray, an exponent of free enterprise, as economic and labor minister. The military threat collapsed.

It remains to be seen whether Alsogaray can carry out his promise of stern measures to put the economy back on a paying basis.

Two Die of Exposure

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Two young men died of exposure but a third was rescued by a Marine Corps helicopter today after their rubber raft was blown out on Lake Michigan during a severe windstorm Wednesday.

Dead were Daniel S. Casper, 16, son of a Milwaukee area physician; and Tony Phipps, 21, of Dallas, Tex.

Rescued was Paul Polansky, 16, of Mason City, Iowa.

The Coast Guard had searched all night.

The three young men, clad only in swimming trunks, were in the raft when it was found 10 miles off shore about 5:30 a.m.

The three had set out from a suburb north of Milwaukee. The lake had been choppy all day. Wind whipped up huge waves during the evening. The storm was accompanied by rain and lightning.

Detour Around Arterial Work, Is Chief's Advice

Trenching for storm drains and other work on the city's arterial route project is under way in the East St. James Street area, and Acting Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today advised that as much traffic as possible detour away from the work.

Although it is planned by John Arborio, Inc., of Poughkeepsie, contractor, not to tie up traffic completely in the triangular area formed by Albany Avenue, Broadway and East St. James Street, he said, one of the streets will be blocked in whole or part, at various times.

Those who have no urgent need to drive in the area should detour away from it whenever possible, the chief advised.

Police were notified at about noon yesterday that East St. James Street would be closed to traffic at start of work in the area where a traffic channel pattern in conjunction with use of the arterial route spur north-west of the city is to be built.

Work has been moving along rapidly for weeks on all other phases of the project, and much fill has been hauled to areas on the western end of the spur.

Repair of Clinton Avenue, which it is expected, will carry much of the traffic detoured from the area, was recently completed.

Saugerties News

School Interest Group Endorses Three for Board

Endorsement of three candidates who because of their residence would give equal representation on the Saugerties Central School, was announced today by the Saugerties Citizens' School Interest Committee.

The committee is the former Citizens' Advisory group.

Those endorsed are Mrs. Mary Lasher of Saxton, and Kenneth Beadle of the village, both incumbents, and Steven Stykos of the village running for the position held by Milton Armstrong, who does not seek reelection.

The school board election will be held Wednesday, July 15, from 12 noon to 9 p. m. in the Main Street School.

According to the "gentlemen's agreement" instituted when centralization was first set up, these candidates are following the original plan of equal district representation, Miss Grace M. Anderson, chairman, said.

The plan calls for four members elected from the village; four for the rural areas, and one for Glasco.

This year, unless Mrs. Lasher is elected, there will be an unfortunate situation which would give the village a representation of five and the rural area, three, Miss Anderson said.

Such a distribution would mean that each of the village board members will be essentially responsible for 162 pupils, while each of the three rural members will be responsible for 408 pupils, and Glasco's one member for 222.

A competent board member residing in a specific district, thus being able to understand better the immediate school problems of his neighborhood, is the basis on which the committee considers and endorses these candidates, she said.

Legislature Will Be Asked to Act On Bomb Shelters

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says he plans to ask the Legislature to pass measures suggested by his special task force for protection against radioactive fallout.

The governor said Wednesday night the task force's basic recommendation was that all new buildings contain fallout shelters and that adequate shielding be installed in existing structures.

Rockefeller said: "What I feel is that I have a tremendous responsibility as governor to do everything possible to help the individual achieve this capacity to protect himself."

The State Defense Council on Monday gave its unanimous approval to the task force report and recommendations.

He added that he believes the public would accept the program once it realized that three out of four could "survive a major thermonuclear attack" if equipped with shelters and survival kits. "Dangerous as they (nuclear wars) are," Rockefeller commented, "it does not mean annihilation or the end of the civilization which we have known."

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

There is no historical significance attached to the Glasco-East Kingston Little League Dodgers' 20-10 victory over the Yankees, except that it was the first win of the season for the Dodgers, who survived several beatings before achieving the laurel wreath for the first time.

It is significant that nobody bothered to report the startling statistics to the newspapers, the day after the game which is standard operating procedure. One of the mothers of the Dodger squad was so overjoyed at the development she telephoned Wednesday morning to ascertain if we had received the score. Of course, we hadn't.

This is perhaps an isolated incident, but it is symbolic of the growing apathy and indifference of junior baseball league officials to good public relations.

It is incredible to this observer, who was in the picture at the very beginning of the Little League baseball movement in Kingston, that organizations that devote time and energy, frantically seeking franchises, sponsors, playing areas, money and equipment will entrust the public relations of such a movement to inept, incompetent, inexperienced and often indifferent scorekeepers.

Is the Writeup Necessary?

Junior baseball can survive without a line ever being published in a newspaper, but that's not the point. We feel that the sports page story is the culmination of the cumulative efforts of the many persons behind any given league. If the officials who are responsible for the league are indifferent to newspaper publicity and cannot arouse any concern over improperly filled out boxscores, then this might be the opportune spot to reiterate that the sports pages will survive, with or without junior baseball news.

The two local softball leagues furnish classic examples of a breakdown in public relations and the prevailing so-called attitude about reporting scores on time and as a league. Except for rare occasions, the leagues never report all games the same day.

In many respects, they are like their bowling brethren who are too lazy to write the sponsor's complete business name on the scoresheets. The way team officials handle their sponsors they should be ashamed to face him.

The situation that prevails in the Kingston area is not singular. It happens all over the country. We find kids entrusted with making out and filing boxscores. Kids and players from within a league are drafted for umpiring chores.

Junior baseball is a tremendous responsibility; one which some people should never attempt to assume, one which other folks are incapable of executing. Unless junior baseball in general batters down the hatches and takes a long, hard look at itself, we foresee serious trouble ahead.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

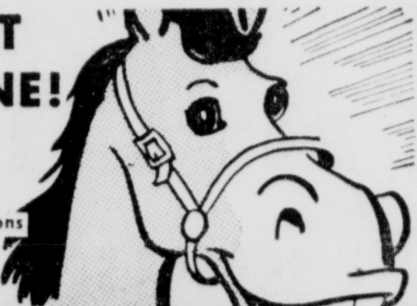

Johnny Green, ex-Marine from Michigan State and an All-America center, has signed with the New York Knicks of the N.B.A. A spectacular 6-5 human jumping jack, Green was the Knicks' No. 1 1959 draft selection after leading the Spartans to the Big Ten title. As a senior, he scored 427 points in 23 games, an 18.6 average and grabbed 388 rebounds. With 1,062 points in his career, he ranked third in Spartan history. He also holds a record for the most rebounds in a career at MSU with 1036. . . . St. John's University's varsity baseball team will play a fall intercollegiate schedule for the first time this year. . . . Bruce Wieder-spiel of Ontario, who enters Albright College on a $3200 scholarship in September, will nevertheless take the West Point entrance exams next week. . . . Carmen Basilio, the former middleweight champion, is sponsoring a four-team amateur baseball league in Syracuse known as the Carmen Basilio Classic League. It will feature collegians and local players.

Fishing Is Catching On:

Some folks say it isn't a sport, but fishing is catching on. National statistics by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service show that 17,401,982 resident permits were issued in fiscal 1958. There were 2,775,623 non-resident incomes. The Sport Fishing Institute estimates that 25,620,000 fishermen were afield in 1958. A total of 2,300,000 were between the age of 8 and 11. Fishing has become America's most popular outdoor family sport. The ranks of the rod-and-line wielders have increased steadily throughout the past decade. Better management methods, the addition of new waters, liberalized regulations and improved tackle and angling techniques point to a shorter time between bites this season. And, lo, the poor fish!

The state winner will play in the regional tournament down South and the national finals are scheduled to be held during August in Oregon.

Players in the Babe Ruth League are in the 13-15 year age bracket and a boy cannot be 16 years old before September of the year he is playing.

Frank Nadal is chairman of the local tournament and he reports interest is very high.

Bosox Blow Lead, Lose To Yanks

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox blew a chance to quit the American League cellar Wednesday night, letting a 3-3 lead slip away and taking an 11-5 walloping from the Yankees, who tied for third place, in the only baseball game scheduled in the majors.

That game, making up an April rainout, was at New York. The next five are at Boston as the result of a weird schedule and a rainout.

The Yankees, now sharing third with Baltimore, 4½ games shy of first, did some blowing themselves before rolling back with a 15-hit attack. Yogi Berra, who homered, and Bill Skowron, who tripled, doubled and singled, drove in five runs between them. Hector Lopez also drove in three runs, two on a bad-hop single that struck Boston second baseman Pete Runnels in the face.

Two Big Blows
A five-run fourth inning, triggered by Skowron's two-run triple and Berra's two-run, ninth homer, gave it to the Yankees and reliever Bobby Shantz (3-2), who has won three straight.

While the Yankees make their latest bid to get a move-on in the AL against the Red Sox, first place Cleveland gets back to business after the All-Star break with the opener of a two-game series at Chicago tonight. The Indians have a two-game lead over the second place White Sox.

Baltimore has five games in four days at Washington, starting with a two-night doubleheader tonight.

In the National League, Milwaukee takes a 90.3 percentage-point lead into the opener of a three-game series with the third place Los Angeles Dodgers, who trail by a half-game.

Second place San Francisco puts the heat on Freddie Hutchinson, new manager of the Reds, right away by opening a three-game series at Cincinnati tonight.

That Nine Iron: Good and Bad

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—John Schifferli shot a hole-in-one with a nine-iron on the 15th hole of the Locust Hill Country Club golf course Wednesday.

Two holes later, he dubbed his shot and the ball broke the windshield of a passing automobile. He was using the same nine-iron. No one was injured.

Potter Pitches Braves To First Half Pennant

The Esopus Legion Little League Braves rode to the first half pennant on the wings of a brilliant one-hitter by Dan Potter Wednesday.

The lone hit off Potter in the Braves' 8-2 victory was a single by Herb Linderman. He fanned seven batters and walked three to gain the decision over Frank Piccoli and Herb Linderman. A pair of 4-run innings turned the trick.

Potter embellished his performance with a triple and Jim Potter also connected for a three bagger. Bruce Reilly slammed two singles for the Braves, who collected five hits.

Alpine Clinches Tie for AL Softball Flag

Passante Hurls Fourteenth Win, 16-5 Over Subway

The Alpine clinched at least a tie for the 1959 championship of the City Softball League Wednesday, trouncing Subway Grill, 16-5, and embellishing their performance with a barrage of gilt edged statistics.

In their first season in the American League, the Alpine tossers won 14 of their first 15 games, with Hank Passante pitching 14 victories.

Alpines would have to lose five straight games and Shannon's take five in a row to change the championship picture in the regular season. The runners-up trail the leaders by five games.

Passante in Breeze
Passante breezed to his 14th pitching victory on an 8-hitter. Subway took a temporary lead in the second, but Alpine triggered 5-run rallies in the third and fifth innings and a six-run cluster in the seventh.

Just to show that his talents are not confined strictly to the pitcher's box, Passante clobbered a home run and double for the winners. B. Canas stroked a double and two singles for Alpine. Joe Ruzzo, B. Hegaman and L. Williams hit doubles.

Smith and Costello, the losing pitcher, and Peck hit two singles apiece for Subway Grill.

Sugar Kings Tie For 7th Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The way the baseball bounced Wednesday night kept Havana from dropping into the International League cellar. Instead, the Sugar Kings are tied for seventh place with Columbus.

Jerry Snyder's 12th-inning single through the legs of Havana pitcher Mike Cuellar gave Miami a 2-1 victory while Columbus was splitting a doubleheader with Richmond, winning the first 2-1 and losing the nightcap 3-1. Cleis Boyer ricocheted a tie-breaking single off the glove of Columbus third baseman Leo Rodriguez for the Richmond victory.

Buffalo won the nightcap of a twinbill with Montreal 9-7 after the Royals had taken the opener 5-0. Toronto defeated Rochester 3-2.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Lightweight champion Don Jordan intends to show his detractors Friday night that he can punch.

Jordan, who won the title by a decision over Virgil Atkins last December and successfully defended it against Akine, again by decision, in April, will take on fast, young Denny Moyer of Portland in a 15-round title bout.

"Most people don't think he can punch. But he can punch real good," said Don Nesseth, one of Jordan's managers. "Now in Moyer he is facing a real tough fighter. Moyer's strong. He's not going out the first time he gets hit. But we think Don will stop him somewhere between 10 and 15 rounds."

Jordan, working on a string of 10 straight victories, planned one final fight workout today in preparation for the title bout, which will be on NBC television, starting at 9 p.m. EST.

Hutch New Reds Pilot

CINCINNATI (AP)—Burly Fred Hutchinson takes over tonight in one of baseball's managerial hot seats—manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

Cincinnati General Manager Gabe Paul announced Wednesday that Mayo Smith had been fired after directing the team through only 80 league games and that Hutchinson had been named to replace him.

Hutchinson, former pilot of the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals, has been managing Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, a Cincinnati farm club affiliate.

In coming here, Hutchinson will be the 10th manager of the Reds since 1947. He will be the fourth in less than a year although one of them—Jimmy Dykes—had only a "interim" tenure last year after Birdie Tebbetts quit.

Seventh Place Club
"Hutch" will be taking over a club mired in seventh place, 10½ games out of first. It is a club so admittedly weak in pitching that Smith singled out that phase Wednesday night as a major reason for the team's plight.

Paul said Hutchinson would be signed to a contract running through the 1960 season when he arrives here today from Seattle. The terms were not disclosed.

The Reds open a series with San Francisco tonight.

Paul's terse announcement of the managerial change said Smith had been his "personal" choice when he was hired.

He added that Smith had been offered a job in the Cincinnati organization but Smith asserted he had not yet decided whether to accept it although he declared "I want to stay in baseball."

The N. Y. State Boxing Commish worried if Al Andrews would be butchered by Jose Torres in that Floyd-Ingo semi-windup? . . . not much . . . a stooge went over to Torres' corner after Jose decked Andrews by mistake with a left hook in the first round . . . to plead his handlers instruct Jose to "take it easy, so we don't look too bad." . . .

Bill Rosensohn doesn't over-look a bet. . . . He cemented relations the night of the fight by dating Nan Krulwich . . . whose pop is NY's No. 1 boxing boy. . . .

We plead as guilty as the rest of the "experts" on Johansson . . . but offer one crumb to the crowd. . . . Quote from this column after visiting Ingo's camp: " . . . when he was massaging the big punching bag, his movements and the force of his right hand were impressive." . . . end rebuttal. . . .

This we gotta see: trainer Whitey Bimstein said before the fight "Sonny Liston could lick the bot" of dem . . . and in one night. . . . Whitey's now saying he knew Ingo packed the punch all along. . . .

We got to Ingemar in the post-fight melee (the cops in the dressing room were worse than anything in the ring) and asked him if he thought he's knock out Patterson again in the rematch. . . . "In Sweden," he whispered, "we don't say things like that. I think I win. I try my best." . . .

What happens now to Irving Kahn's master plan for closed circuit TV boxing on a regular basis coast-to-coast . . . with some arenas reported sewed up? . . .

The surprise 64th birthday party Jack Dempsey got at Trader Vic's on the eve of the big fight came 40 years after a similar fete on the eve of another big fight—his pasting of Jess Willard in Toledo in 1919. . . . Harry Gayson was the only guy who made both of them. . . .

The Basilio-Carbo tieup was the first of a series of releases cracking down on boxing . . . that will filter through the Justice Dept. . . . was J. Edgar Hoover at the title fight only in the guise of spectator? . . .

You never saw such buddy-buddying as Dale Hall of Army and Wayne Hardin of Navy did at Spalding football clinic in which Dale lectured . . . and Hardin sat as a spellbound observer while Hall revealed all six sets of Army's "lonely end" signals. . . .

What Don Clark (Southern California) and Ben Martin (Air Force), a couple of former aides, say about Eddie Erdelatz could lead to feud stuff if and when he gets back into coaching. . . .

Despite the fact that he comes close to being the indispensable man in the Chicago White Sox lineup, Sherman Lollar can't help feeling insecure . . . he doesn't believe Bill Vecek likes him . . . and has the record to go by—Ol' Sportshirt traded the strong, silent catcher twice before from clubs he owned. . . .

Jimmy Demaret, in from Houston to supervise the demise of his Shor's hangout, shrugs he'll never play in a U. S. Open again . . . as long as it insists he qualify. . . .

Between you 'n' me, Bill Rosensohn's now being glorified as the head man in boxing, in control of the works . . . but we still think he's an amateur off the way the Patterson-Johansson fight was run off. . . .

Reese, Dressen See LA Dodgers Winning Pennant

MILWAUKEE (AP) —The Los Angeles Dodgers are confident they can take the National League title away from the Milwaukee Braves.

Leading the optimistic chorus for the West Coast brigade were Coaches Pee Wee Reese and Chuck Dressen, a Dodger manager when the club was in Brooklyn.

"Sure we can win," declared Reese. "Why? Because we have the best pitching in either league."

Said Dressen, "If I had pitching like this back in Brooklyn, I'd have walked in."

The Dodgers are third, a half game behind the Braves who hold first place by three percentage points over the San Francisco Giants.

The Dodgers and Braves open a critical three-game series to night, Danny McDevitt, 8-6, starting for Los Angeles and Joey Jay, 3-3, for the Braves.

Marciano Gives Floyd Chance In Return Bout

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) — Rocky Marciano, who retired undefeated in 1956 as heavyweight champion of the world, believes Floyd Patterson has a "fair chance" to beat Ingemar Johansson in their return fight.

Johansson knocked out Patterson in the third round June 25 and wrested the heavyweight title from him.

"If Patterson has anything, he has a fair chance to regain his title when he fights Johansson again," said Marciano who watched the bout from ringside at Yankee Stadium.

Rocky warned Patterson about the return bout. "He's just got Marciano's right," said Marciano. "Johansson doesn't have much else, but he's hard to hit. He has that funny European style and stands straight up. And he's stronger and bigger than Patterson."

Marciano, 34, also said he had no plans for a comeback.

Aaron, Killebrew Are Top Sluggers

NEW YORK (AP) — Harmon Killebrew of the Washington Senators and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee are the major league slugging leaders at the season's midway mark.

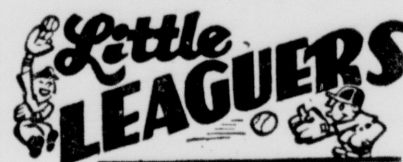

Killebrew paces the American League with a slugging average of .625. He has compiled 173 total bases in 277 times at bat, including among his 73 hits are 10 doubles, 2 triples and a big league high of 28 homers. No Washington player has won the slugging championship since Ed Delahanty in 1902.

Aaron tops the National League with a .684 mark, on 216 total bases in 316 trips. Aaron has 27 doubles, 3 triples and 22 homers among his 117 safeties.

Ed Matthews, another Milwaukee long ball hitter, is runnerup to Aaron with a .602 average. Matthews had 99 hits, including 7 doubles, 7 triples and a National League high of 25 homers in 324 at bats.

Jordan Pauker, Owls leadoff hitter, collected three singles and Neil Pauker and Brian Bach each had two singles. Stan Terwilliger with a triple and Dan Gaffney with a double were the extra base hitters.

Charlie Lay, the winning pitcher, permitted only three hits, walked 14 and fanned 10. The three Braves safeties by Jack Sleight, Fred De Temple and Bob Kent were singles.

Five of the Indians connected for three hits. John Bream and Charlie Lay rapped a double and two singles apiece. Lou Perry and Bary Fraser had a trio of singletons each. Bill Bassett and Dean Short had two hits.

Dale Meinert Signs With Chicago Cards

CHICAGO (AP)—Dale Meinert, 215-pound guard obtained from the Baltimore Colts last year, has signed a 1959 contract with the Chicago Cardinals.

Meinert, a lineman at Oklahoma State (A&M) for four seasons, played starting left guard on offense for the Cardinals last year after he was obtained from Baltimore in exchange for linebacker Leo Sanford.

Million Dollar Aid Program For Minor Leagues

CHICAGO (AP)—A one million dollar financial aid program to bolster struggling minor leagues held top attention today of major league baseball officials.

Other main issues before the majors' annual summer meetings are the question of the starting date of the 1960 race and controversy over a rule permitting inter-league player trades.

Commissioner Ford Frick said the question of a third major league is not on the agenda and that he does not believe it will be discussed.

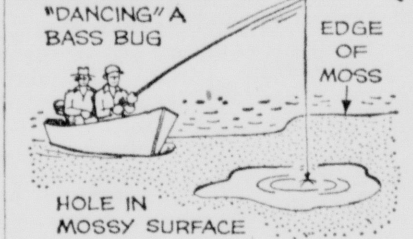

However, the third major league proposal could be brought before the meeting with the unanimous consent of the club owners.

The executive committees of the majors and minors huddled Wednesday with Frick in an effort to work out a formula for shoring up the sagging minor leagues.

Charles Segar, assistant to Frick, said recommendations will be submitted Friday at a joint meeting of American and National league club officials.

Careful Directions for Shipping Dogs

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

When dogs are being shipped a long distance one thing must be accepted at the start. Employees — airline, railroad or whatever — in almost all instances are fond of animals.

Any breakdown in the safety and speed of canine cargo is much more likely to result from mechanical than human shortcomings.

Incidents occur because of the soft-heartedness of kindly employees who believe that because they love dogs, the dog must feel secure. They do not realize that some dogs feel completely insecure as a result of the many strange things encountered when shipped long distances.

They are better off remaining for a long period in a crate than loose on the town after eluding the employee attempting to exercise, feed or water.

Arrange for the promptest possible delivery and pick-up at both ends by delivering at time of departure and telegraphing or telephoning time of arrival. Attach careful directions to the crate, written concisely.

If the dog is to be exercised en route provide an inexpensive but stout chain which can be attached to the outside of the crate. Insist that the exchange to the lead be made in a room.

Many dislike shipping a dog with a collar, since the dog might somehow get hung up by it. I've come to believe that, in the long run, it is better to attach a simple flat leather collar with ample identification.

The risk of losing the dog by escape is far greater than by any possible accident resulting from wearing a leather collar.

Teenagers Star In Women's Golf

CHICAGO (AP) — Youngsters are having their day in the 59th annual Women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

One of the youngest quarter-final fields in the meet's history tees off this afternoon on the 6,567-yard par 37-38-75 Exmoor Country Club course.

The group includes two teenagers, Andy Cohn of Waterloo, Iowa, 19-year-old Northwestern University sophomore, and 18-year-old Sherry Wheeler, long-hitting star from Glasgow, Ky., last year's runner-up in the USGA Junior.

Then come Nancy Roth, 20, who waits tables during the winter in a Hollywood, Fla., cafe and spends summers working out of Elkhart, Ind.; Joe Anne Gunderson, 20, of Seattle; Barbara Williams, 20, the California State champion from Richmond; Anne Quast, 21, Everett, Wash.; Judy Bell, 22, Wichita University psychology major, and elder stateswoman, Marge Lindsay, 34-year-old former Curtis Cup player from Decatur, Ill.

Wellsville Tops NY-Penn By Nine

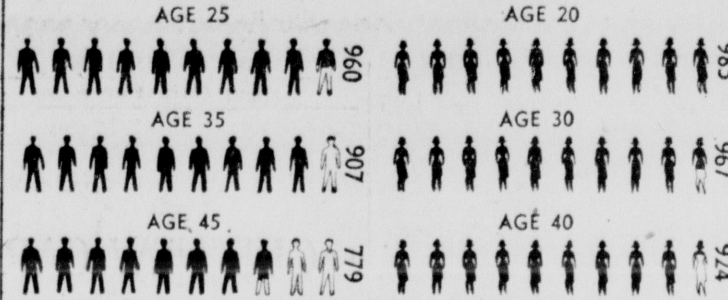

The Wellsville Braves, riding a six-game winning streak, have moved nine games out in front in the New York - Penn Baseball League.

The Braves knocked over second-place Geneva 4-3 and 9-6 Wednesday night and completed a sweep of the three-game series. Ceferino Foy scattered nine Geneva hits in the opener; Ken Roessler and Amado Samuel homered for the Braves.

Harry Panaro slammed a homer, his 10th, for Geneva. Bennie Griggs won his 13th in 17 decision in the second game. Ken Wagner and Rafael Gomez homered for Wellsville and Paul Kelly and Reno Debenedetti did the same for the Redlegs.

CHANCES IN 1,000 THAT NEW PARENTS WILL LIVE TO SEE THEIR CHILD REACH 18

BEST YEARS OF THEIR LIVES—Increased lifespan in today's world has brought another blessing—less chance of orphanhood for new babies. Chart above shows the odds at various ages for a father or mother living to see their child celebrate his 18th birthday. Even at 45, a mother has 985 chances out of a 1,000 that she will live another 18 years. For a father of 50, the figure is 677. Data from Metropolitan Life.

Historic John Brown Site Opens on July 12

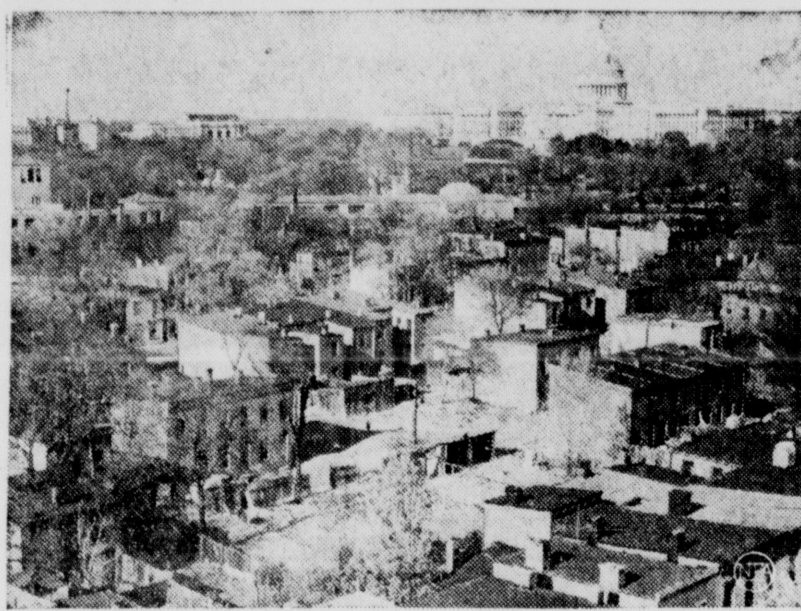

ALBANY—The historically famous John Brown Farm, three miles south of Lake Placid, will be reopened in a ceremony scheduled for July 12, the State Education Department announced today.

Dr. Albert Corey, state historian, said the close ties between John Brown, a militant abolitionist, and New York State's Adirondack Mountains will be part of theme of the July 12 celebration. The farm, a state-owned historic site under the supervision of the Education Dept., is three miles south of Lake Placid. During the past year the two-story unpainted farmhouse has undergone extensive renovation under the direction of Miss Anna K. Cunningham, supervisor of New York State's historic sites, and now looks as it did a hundred years ago. The land was purchased by John Brown in 1848 and became the Brown family home with Brown and several of his followers buried in a small cemetery near the farmhouse.

The July 12 program is part of New York's 1959 "Year of History" celebration.

END OF AN EYESORE—Slums in the very shadow of the Capitol Building have long been a national disgrace. Now one famous Washington eyesore, Dixon Court, has been leveled to the ground. A redevelopment project is replacing the decrepit buildings, above, with modern apartments and green spaces.

To This

CAPITAL INVESTMENT—This architect's sketch shows how a notorious slum area in the nation's capital, Dixon Court, is being transformed into what is called one of the most modern urban areas in the country. Apartments, town houses and parks are appearing where once stood crowded tenements. The dome of the Capitol is visible in the background. The reconstruction project is well underway and will be completed in 1960.

Cindy Breaks Up By Going Inland; Caused One Death

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) —

Tropical storm Cindy — a hurricane for only a few hours and hardly worth the designation — moved across the coast north of this old port city Wednesday night. While the storm did little damage, it was responsible for one highway death. H. H. Higgins Jr., 41, a Georgetown, S.C., lawyer, was killed when his car hit a tree that was blown across U.S. 17 about 20 miles north of here where Cindy came ashore.

Had 75 MPH Winds

Cindy, born in the Atlantic 200 miles offshore Tuesday, at one time Wednesday reached hurricane force of 75 miles an hour. However, by the time she hit the coast at Bull Bay, at 9:45 p.m., she was losing her punch.

Gusts of 60 to 70 miles an hour were recorded. Then the storm began moving inland and breaking up. Tides quickly began receding after reaching a peak two and a half feet above normal at Georgetown. Just 15 minutes after the storm hit the coast, the Charleston Weather Bureau advised the thousands of evacuees from nearby beach areas that they could return safely to their homes.

The storm was expected to continue moving inland today, gradually diminishing. Squally weather and winds with gusts not exceeding 45 to 55 miles an hour were predicted for inland areas of both Carolinas.

On Trial for Life

Resistance Hero Against Hitler Now Helps Reds

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Manolis Glezos, 37, hero of Greek resistance against the Nazis, went on trial today before an Athens military court on charges of aiding and hiding Communist spies. Glezos, whose World War II exploits thrilled all Greece, is one of 20 defendants in the case.

Glezos and the others are accused of helping Communist spies who infiltrated into Greece from behind the Iron Curtain. Conviction could mean death. Once before Glezos faced a possible death sentence in a Greek court. During the 1947-8 guerrilla war against the Reds, he was convicted of subversive activities and condemned. After two years imprisonment he was released because of his World War II exploits.

MOSCOW (AP) — President Klementi Y. Voroshilov sent a message to King Paul of Greece today appealing for the release of Manolis Glezos, Greek resistance hero on trial in Athens.

Rocky, Leaders Agree on Funds For Suffolk Probe

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller and Republican legislative leaders have agreed to provide another $57,500 to continue the state's special investigation of alleged corruption in GOP-controlled Suffolk County.

The governor's office, which announced the decision today, said this would be enough to keep the investigation going until Nov. 1. They expect it to be completed by then.

The money will be made available from the state's governmental emergency fund. Appropriations from this fund are made through certificates signed by the governor, legislative leaders and the chairmen of the Legislature's fiscal committees.

The governor's office said allocation of the $57,500 would raise to $750,000 the total expense of the investigation. Edwin Silberling, the state's special prosecutor in Suffolk County, had reported that he would have to suspend the investigation unless he were given more money. The probe was begun in January 1957.

Rockefeller asked the 1959 Legislature to appropriate $250,000 for the investigation for fiscal 1959-60, but the lawmakers cut this to $100,000. The fiscal year begins April 1.

The governor's office said the amount of additional money now being appropriated "was arrived at on the basis of a detailed study of the status of the work of the investigation and by developing a projected month-by-month budget for the investigation as indicated by the nature and volume of the work which remains to be done."

Aluminum Firms Considering USW Contract Request

NEW YORK (AP)—Three major aluminum firms are considering the United Steelworkers' request for wage boosts and other benefits in a contract to replace the one that expires July 31. Union negotiators met Wednesday with representatives of the Aluminum Co. of America, the Reynolds Metals Co. and the Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Co.

They meet again today. A union spokesman said the requests were "substantially the same" as the union has presented to basic steel firms. Management spokesmen declined comment.

The bargaining sessions affect 31,500 steelworkers union members in plants throughout the country. The union is asking unspecified wage increases along with pension, insurance and other concessions. The aluminum contracts usually are similar to the pacts of the basic steel firms. Present wages in aluminum refineries average $2.91 an hour.

Egg plant is said to have originated in Burma or India.

Death Toll 23

ICC Await Data On Rail Crash

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — With the death toll now at 23, the Interstate Commerce Commission prepared today to hear testimony on what might have caused the rail disaster June 28 at Meldrim. The hearing seeks an explanation of what caused the derailment of 17 Seaboard Air Line freight cars on a trestle over the Ogeechee River near a crowded recreation area.

Included in the crackup were two tank cars loaded with butane. Seventeen persons died on the spot when the gas exploded. Six others died later.

The 23rd victim, Phillip D. Carpenter, 31, of Pooler, died Wednesday. His son, Charles, 14, died of burns the day after the disaster.
